CAMPAIGN PLANS ARE OUTLINED

Coolidge Pleased With Result in South Dakota.

TO NAME POLITICAL MANAGER

President to Write a Letter in Appreciation of South Dakota Republicans' Action and Bid For Support in Other States—Coolidge Indorsement an Empty One, Says Senator Johnson.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Jubilant over the indorsement given President Coolidge for the Republican nomination by the South Dakota proposal convention caused the white house to make its first formal announcement of the president's plans for the campaign.

As soon as officially notified of the action of the South Dakota convention, the president will write a letter of appreciation, which will also be a bid for support in other states.

The "keynote speech" of the president's campaign will be the address which he delivered to congress in joint session today. The president believes this speech contains as full a statement of his stand on pending issues as will be necessary to enable him to carry on a successful fight for delegates.

The president will entrust the management of his campaign to some one individual and will not make any speech-making tours from Washington. He is known to adhere to the belief that his remaining "on the job" here will be a great asset to him in the fight.

The indorsement of Senator Capper of Kansas as a running mate by the South Dakota convention is acceptable to the president, although he has not conferred with Capper on the subject.

The president's campaign manager may be Senator Moses of New Hampshire, William M. Butler, national committeeman from Massachusetts, or George Harvey. Will H. Hays has been asked to take the job, but so far has declined.

These announcements made at the white house represent the president's reaction to the first indorsement of his candidacy for the nomination given to him by any state in the Union. But while the view of the South Dakota indorsement was arousing lively anticipations in the president's official family it was not being shared by Senator Johnson and his supporters. On the contrary, the opinion expressed by persons familiar with the South Dakota nominating system was to the effect that the Coolidge indorsement is an empty one and means absolutely nothing at all.

Senator Johnson declared the result is indecisive and that he will welcome an opportunity of contesting with the president for the South Dakota delegation in the March primary. He added: "Four years ago I had not a single vote in the South Dakota convention. Tuesday, without any effort of any sort I had more than one-third of the delegates."

Senator Norbeck of South Dakota, just returned from there, asserted that Johnson will carry the state in the primary to be held in March.

BRITISH AT POLLS TODAY

Eve of Election Marked by Outbreaks of Ruffianism.

London, Dec. 6.—The British electoral campaign closed last night with all parties making confident predictions as to the results. The Conservatives say they are certain to get a small working majority in commons; the Liberals assert that the country is going to spring an unforeseen surprise on the Conservatives; the Laborites insist the party will win at least 171 seats and become the official opposition in commons.

The eve of the polling was characterized by outbreaks of ruffianism. Lady Eustace Percy was struck in the face and severely injured by a broken cup which was thrown at her at Hastings. In South Wales Mrs. Elias, wife of the Liberal candidate, was kicked in the legs by a group of toughs. In the same neighborhood the wife of the Conservative candidate was also attacked and is now ill in bed. Viscount Curzon, contesting in the Battersea district, had to cancel two meetings on account of threats to assassinate him.

FREDERICK GILLET

Re-elected Speaker of the House of Representatives.

BERGER TO HOLD SEAT

Milwaukee Socialist Leader Faces No Fight This Session.

Washington, Dec. 6.—There will be no fight this time on Victor L. Berger, Milwaukee Socialist leader, who was denied a seat in the house in the two previous congresses. This was made certain when no objection was raised when he was called up with the Wisconsin delegation to take the oath. The charges against Berger, which grew out of his activities during the war, have been dismissed by the United States supreme court since the house last refused to admit him.

INTERNATIONAL RACE TO THE NORTH POLE

One Million Square Miles of Territory the Stake.

Lakehurst, N. J., Dec. 6.—With preparations already under way for a world's record dash to the North pole next summer, the opinion was freely expressed that the flight will unofficially, but in reality, develop into the greatest international race in history.

It was pointed out that the contestants, the navy dirigible Shenandoah supplemented probably by airplanes, and Roald Amundsen in his ship Maud, also supplemented by airplanes, will strive to claim for their respective countries the 1,000,000 square miles of uncharted territory. It was made plain, however, that the territorial prize would be subsidiary to the scientific data which will be obtained by the polar flight, first conceived by Peary in 1916.

While it was stated semi-officially that the real purpose of the flight would be to observe the phenomena of the North magnetic pole, and the exploration of territory hitherto uncharted by man, a probable result would lead to the development of regular trans-polar dirigible mail routes and eventually should result in continuous air commerce during every month of the year. There are two reasons for this, viz: Statement by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, famous Arctic explorer, that with the use of the dirigible the supposed terrors of the far north would soon disappear, and announcement by Hakon Hammer, associate of Amundsen, that the Scandinavian expedition plans to carry mail to the North pole, postcards to be carried for $1 each.

OHIO'S STRONG BOX

Beginning of New Year Will See a Cash Balance of $21,000,000.

Columbus, Dec. 6.—State Auditor Tracy announced that Ohio will have a cash balance of $21,650,000 in its state treasury Jan. 1. Balance at the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1923, was $12,117,034.28, according to Tracy's annual report. The December collections of indirect taxes, which will amount to approximately $10,000,000, he predicts, will bring the balance well over $21,000,000. At the beginning of the last fiscal year, July 1, 1922, balance was only $9,969,870.20. Receipts during the 12 months totaled $29,266,481.08 and credit transfers of $423,542.78 made a total of $39,660,195.16 available for the year. Expenditures during the same period totaled $27,543,159.88. Operating expenses amounted to $16,273,603.47.

ARSON CHARGE AGAINST HIM

Man Sought for Years Is Arrested in California.

MOURNED AS SLAYER'S VICTIM

Said to Have Disappeared After Leaving "Widow" and Two Small Children Well Provided With Life Insurance—Prisoner Once a Prosperous Business Man in Wisconsin. Woman Companion Detained.

Napa, Cal., Dec. 6.—Sought throughout the country for four years, Edward Sallstad, 30, once a wealthy business man in the little town of Eau Claire, Wis., and mourned for a time as the victim of a murderer, was arrested in St. Helena, Cal., near here on telegraphic advices, charged with arson.

Questioned by District Attorney Thomas Anglin, Sallstad said, according to the authorities, that he had exhumed the body of a man named Andrew McPhee from a cemetery at Lake Nebagamon, Wis., summer resort, in October, 1919, removed it to a cottage and then set the place on fire, under circumstances intended to indicate that he himself had been burned to death. Then he disappeared.

Sallstad said that he was in financial difficulties and dropped out of a life which had become unbearable to him, leaving behind a "widow" and two small children, but leaving her well provided with $62,000 in insurance he had taken out in her name.

When taken into custody by Sheriff Harris and Undersheriff Steckler, Sallstad, who had assumed the name of Kingston, was traveling in an expensive automobile with a woman companion. She gave the name of Mary Brown, which is believed to be fictitious. She is being detained as a material witness. The woman told the district attorney that she had met Sallstad in Chicago and had been accompanying him throughout the nation by motor. She said she did not know he was a fugitive, but that she would remain with him "through thick and thin."

The prisoner almost collapsed when informed that he was wanted in the Wisconsin town charged with arson. Officials declared he said he thought he had made a clean get-away. He never corresponded with relatives or friends in his home state and he was mystified as to how he was finally trapped. Sallstad is alleged to have said the crime had almost constantly preyed on his mind and that he was glad he was caught at last. He said he would willingly go back to Wisconsin and would not fight extradition.

FRENCH PAPERS ACCUSED

Said to Have Received Bribes From Czar's Government.

Paris, Dec. 6.—The communist paper, Humanite, publishes amazing revelations, including letters from the former Russian ambassador found in the archives at Petrograd, alleging that certain French newspapers accepted large bribes from the czar's government in exchange for support. A letter signed by Arthur Raffalovich, financial counselor of the Russian embassy in Paris before the war, says: "In the first 10 months of 1905 the 'abominable venality' of the French press absorbed 600,000 francs." The letters name prominent editors who received money, one of them now a senator and knight of the Legion of Honor.

Contest in Mexican Congress.

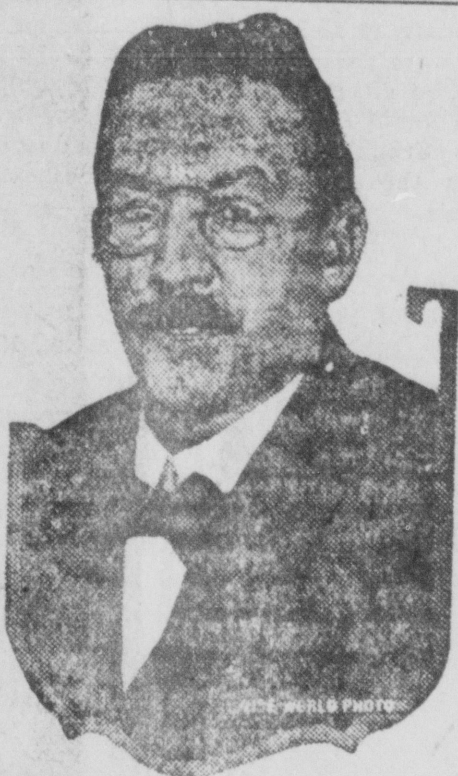

Mexico City, Dec. 6.—The political complexion of the Mexican congress remains in doubt, due to the lack of a quorum, thus leaving unsettled which of the presidential candidates will be in control for the coming month. Both the interior and exterior of the halls of congress presented a wartime picture, with steps and corridors lined with police and federal soldiers, carrying full equipment to quell any disturbances. General Calles controls the senate and a battle is on to wrest the control of the house from the De la Huerta faction.

Nation's Housing Shortage.

Philadelphia, Dec. 6.—A shortage of between 800,000 and 1,000,000 houses in the United States was revealed by officials of the National Housing association, who are attending the session of the ninth national conference on housing in America. Three vital factors in the blockade on housing were summed up as high cost of money, high cost of material, high cost of labor.

DOCTOR MATTHES

Head of the Recently Proclaimed Rhineland Republic

DOINGS IN OHIO

Crabbe on Probe at Canton.

Columbus, Dec. 6.—Attorney General Crabbe announced he would "go along slowly" in deciding what action he will take to prosecute charges of graft and corruption in the Canton city government, filed with Governor Donahy and referred to Crabbe for investigation. "I intend to have an impartial survey and get all the available unbiased evidence I can before I act further," Crabbe said. He added he would send a representative from his department to Canton to make further investigation.

Double Tragedy.

Chillicothe, O., Dec. 6.—Dispute over division of the property of his dead wife, police say, caused Adam Frazier, laborer, to shoot his brother-in-law, Jacob Miller, with a shotgun and then fire a bullet into his own head, in an attempt to commit suicide. Miller was shot in the right arm. Frazier is wounded probably fatally.

Prisoner's Fatal Leap.

Columbus, Dec. 6.—Harry Wilson, 32, leaped from the third story window of the Ohio penitentiary "idle house" and received fatal injuries. Wilson's right leg was broken and he suffered internal hurts. He fell about 40 feet in his plunge. Wilson was received from Cleveland Nov. 19 last to serve 10 to 15 years on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Refund Sought.

Cincinnati, Dec. 6.—Hearing was started before C. T. Grave, referee in bankruptcy, here on claims filed by the government for the refund of $94,809 alleged to have been overpaid the Pfau Manufacturing company, Norwood, bankrupt, for the manufacture of water boxes for the cooling of machine guns during the war.

Hit by Speeding Auto.

Cincinnati, Dec. 6.—William Klable, 55, was struck by a speeding auto as he crossed a street here. His skull was fractured. The driver of the car sped away. Passersby picked up a headlight snapped off by the crash and gave it to police. The victim may die.

Branch Bank Robbed.

Dayton, O., Dec. 6.—Two armed bandits held up the City Trust and Savings company's branch bank and escaped in an automobile with $8,000 in cash. Seven customers were in the bank at the time. The gunmen gathered up what money was in the drawers and fled.

Two Hurt at Crossing.

Cleveland, Dec. 6.—Henry Jones of North Randall and his wife were seriously injured when their automobile was struck by an Erie railroad passenger train at a grade crossing. Mr. Jones is believed to have suffered a broken back.

Mary Lygo Returns Home.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Mary Lygo has gone home to her mother. With her departure the former "Follies" beauty, who settled her breach of promise suit with Gordon Thorne, declared that she would drop all memories of it to become again plain Irene Goodall of Akron, O. "I'm going to forget there ever was a girl who called herself Mary Lygo," she said almost wearily.

Greece to Recognize Soviet.

Berlin, Dec. 6.—The Greek government, it is authoritatively learned, has sent M. Kakalidas to Moscow on a mission to negotiate recognition of the Russian communist government and at the same time arrange a commercial treaty.

CONGRESS GIVES EAR TO COOLIDGE

Both Branches Meet in Joint Session Today.

PROBLEMS PUT UP TO SOLONS

Two Contested Seats in the House Referred to the Elections Committee—Organization of House Carried Out in Accordance With Agreement Reached by Regular and Insurgent Republicans.

Washington, Dec. 6.—President Coolidge's appearance before a joint session of congress today was made possible when the insurgent Republicans, with their fight for an opportunity to liberalize the rules won, permitted the house to organize, with the re-election of Representative Frederick H. Gillett as speaker.

The routine of swearing in the 435 house members was sensationally interrupted when Representative Rainey (Dem., Ill.) objected to Representative Miller of the Twenty-second Illinois district being seated. He charged Miller with having diverted funds of the state of Illinois to his own campaign fund while he was state treasurer and candidate for congress. The question finally was referred to the election committee and Miller was sworn in.

Representative Britten (Rep., Ill.) countered the Rainey objection with a motion that Representative-elect James R. Buckley, Democrat of the Sixth Illinois district, whose election by a majority of less than 39 votes as being contested by his Republican predecessor, John J. Gorman, also not be allowed to take his seat. When Miller was seated, however, Britten withdrew his objection to Buckley, whose election also will be passed on by the election committee.

Following the delivery of the president's message, the house adjourned. When it meets again on Monday adjournment will be taken for another three days and this practice will be followed until the committee lists are completed and bills are prepared for consideration on the floor. In the meantime the Republican committee on committees will meet Friday morning to begin the task of filling committee vacancies. This work, it is estimated, will require at least two weeks.

Similar procedure with regard to the make-up of committees will be carried out in the senate, although the work on that side will not take so long. The Democrats on both sides will be able to make their committee assignments with little delay as soon as the majority advises them what the political apportionment is to be. In the senate it is likely, too, that there will be some speech making on foreign and domestic questions which are due to come up for consideration later.

Organization of the house was carried out in accordance with the agreement effected at a conference between the leaders of the insurgents and regulars.

WILL SEIZE HOMES

Dictator Von Kahr Warns Free Spenders Among the Rich.

Berlin, Dec. 6.—Dictator Von Kahr is determined to enforce the simple life among the wealthy Bavarians. From within his barbed wire barricaded official residence in Munich Von Kahr has issued a new order against the "good times" and "high living" of the free spenders among the rich. The dictator says that their lavish ways are "a public nuisance" and tend to create unrest among the less fortunate part of the public. Those found guilty hereafter will have their homes confiscated. Owing to the great scarcity of houses, the dictator believes the seizure of homes will be more of a deterrent than jail sentences.

See Business Expansion.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—All lines of business and industry will participate in a broad forward movement during 1924, leaders in representative industries say. The United States is in a healthy economic condition, they said, and the foundation is solid enough to warrant marked expansion.

Merger Negotiations Off.

New York, Dec. 6.—Confirmation of reports that the proposed merger of the Studebaker and Maxwell Motor companies had been abandoned was furnished by James C. Brady, a director of the Maxwell company, who declared that the overtures for such a union came from the Studebaker corporation.

COUNTESS DENIES CHARGE

Declares She Was Never Engaged to Marquis De Pontevedes.

Paris, Dec. 5.—"I was never engaged to the Marquis de Pontevedes. He admired me and bombarded me with offers of marriage. He became so insistent, in fact, that I was forced to protect myself, by forbidding him to see me again. Whatever small gifts he made were entirely of his own volition. I warned him when I accepted some of them that I could not marry him."

Such is the statement issued in behalf of Countess de Beaupreire de Grasset, widow of Ferris Thompson, Cincinnati millionaire, answering charges contained in the demand of Marquis de Pontevedes before the Seine tribunal for $40,000 damages for alleged breach of promise.

When Ferris Thompson died his French bride fell heir to a fortune estimated at $5,000,000 and a house in Paris valued at $3,000,000. According to Maitre Guilhaumet, counsel for the marquis, the plaintiff possessed bills for a long list of valuable rings and necklaces. In addition, the marquis says, he literally denuded the historic mansion of his family to enrich the home of the woman with whom he was infatuated.

White Petitions Sent Out.

Columbus, Dec. 6.—Petitions for the candidacy of James A. White, Ohio Anti-Saloon league superintendent, for governor on the Republican ticket, are being sent out to Ohio dries by a Columbus organization which has handled the Anti-Saloon league's publicity, it has developed. The petitions are being accompanied with circular letters urging the circulation of the petitions. The petitions and letters, it was contended by the publicity organization, are being sent out at the instigation of a number of prominent dry Republicans.

Ford Was Star Pupil.

Detroit, Dec. 6.—When Charles C. Kellogg taught the Miller school in Dearborn township 44 years ago, Henry Ford was his star pupil. "He was about 16 years old when I took the school," said Mr. Kellogg, now superintendent of mills here, "and he was already known among the farmers as a mechanical genius. Whenever any of the neighbors had any trouble with their machinery they sent for Henry to repair it. He was working on a 'horseless carriage' even then."

Want Wiedfeldt.

Berlin, Dec. 6.—The Krupps have again asked Ambassador Wiedfeldt at Washington, according to good information, whether he can not see his way clear to resigning the ambassadorship and returning to Germany to resume one of the most important managerial posts in the great Krupp works at Essen. The foreign office says it is advised of the efforts of the Krupps, but that up to the present time no request has been received from Dr. Wiedfeldt to be relieved at Washington.

To Be Spent For Military Supplies.

Paris, Dec. 6.—The financial committee of the foreign commission has approved the loan of 700,000,000 francs to Poland and 300,000,000 francs to Jugoslavia. Premier Poincare explained that all the money will be spent in France for military supplies.

SMALL TOWN HUMOR AND PHILOSOPHY

By BUCK CAMPBELL

If a man's wife is his better half and he marries twice, what is left of him? Not much.

It is not surprising that there are microbes in kisses, but the most of us are willing to take a chance.

A married man objects to his wife going to a card party because she holds hands that are better than his.

If the average fellow was half as good as he tries to make others believe he is this world would be a paradise.

When a man says: "I run things at my house" he means the lawn mower or the washing machine, or something like that.

You do not have to cultivate bad habits; they grow luxuriantly without it. Boll weevil and other pestilence are no barrier to a good crop.

HERE AND THERE

Football took a toll of 19 lives during the season just passed, records compiled at Chicago show. Nine victims were high school students, five from colleges and universities and the remainder "semi-pro" players.

Eight bandits looted the Vandergrift distilling plant at Centerville Station, seven miles south of Brownsville, Pa. They loaded three trucks with 37 barrels of whisky and escaped.

"Breadus White Sox," owned by A. A. Armstrong & Sons of Pomargo, Ill., was crowned grand champion of yearling steers at the International Live Stock exposition, Chicago.

Fire destroyed one full block of old frame buildings in the business district of Richmond Mo., with a loss estimated at $750,000.

More than $90 persons have been killed directly and indirectly by poison liquor since Jan. 1, 1923, according to Frank Paul, special investigator for the coroner's office at Philadelphia.

"It says here," remarked Mrs. Johnson, in the midst of her reading, "that the man who takes a cold bath every morning, summer and winter, is the peacock of the human race."

"The which?" asked Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge.

"The peacock—the proudest person."

"Huh! He hain't no peacock. He's a thundering liar!"

What It Meant to Her.

"How strange," murmured the sweet young thing as she looked the interior of the bank over with a critical eye, "how strange."

"What is strange?" asked a bystander.

"That sign over there. Why don't they make it read, 'Information' instead of 'Teller'?"—Toronto Globe.

Medicine in Zululand.

Native doctors in Zululand collect rich fees by blowing into the ears of their patients to cast out evil spirits. The victim is seated on the blanketed floor of the outdoor surgery, and after announcing that he is to dispel the wicked demons causing the sickness, the medicine man places a horn to the patient's ear and blows. The ill one generally makes a bad face, cries "enough," and being convinced that he has been cured is troubled no more. In severe cases where the horn is not effective herbs are used as a remedy.

Not Merely Ordinary Hunger.

My aunt, who is noted for her skill at baking cakes and cookies, is very popular with the younger members of our family. One day while my small brother, aged 4, was visiting her he mentioned that he was hungry. Upon being presented with a piece of bread and butter, he said, "Oh, thank you; I'm not that kind of hungry, I'm only cake hungry."—Exchange.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Gospel Spreads Through Persecution.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Expanding Missionary Vision and Activity.

I. The Gospel Spreads to Samaria (Acts 8:4-8; 14:17; 25).
1. Philip Preaching the Gospel in Samaria (vv. 4-8). Following the stoning of Stephen the enemies of the Lord were more active than ever in their efforts to stamp out the new faith. With Saul as their leader they dragged from their homes and imprisoned those who confessed Christ, but the Devil overreached himself in this, for this scattered the believers everywhere, and they preached the Gospel as they went. The time had now come for the witness-bearing to extend beyond Jerusalem and Judea as the Lord had commanded. The Lord permitted the persecution so as to scatter them.
2. Peter and John Visit Samaria (vv. 14-17; 25). When the Apostles heard of Philip's work in Samaria they sent two of their best men to encourage it. These men had discernment to know that the spirit had not yet fallen upon them and the Spirit was given them. These Samaritans were really converted, regenerated, but had not yet been filled with the Spirit. In this they were like many church members today without the Spirit's gift.
3. Philip Preaching to the Ethiopian Eunuch (Acts 8:30-40). In the conversion of the eunuch we see the Lord's work still broadening. The Gospel was first preached to the Samaritans who were nationally on the borderland between the Jews and the Gentiles. This Ethiopian was in all probability a Gentile, a proselyte to the Jewish faith. In his conversion we see the work reaching afar, even on its way to the ends of the earth. By divine direction Philip left his great work in Samaria and was directed to the eunuch. The Spirit of God directed him to go and join himself to the chariot of the Ethiopian. The coming together of these two men in the desert was providential. (1) The eunuch's employment on the way. He was reading the Word of God. (2) The absolute need of a preacher. The eunuch was reading the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah, one of the clearest testimonies of the Messiah in the Old Testament, yet was unable to understand it. The one thing needed in the salvation of men is for the saved man to bring the message to the unsaved. (3) The message of Philip was Jesus. He began at the Scriptures and preached Jesus. The central theme of the preacher's message should be Jesus. (4) The eunuch baptized. As a consequence of Philip's preaching the eunuch proposed baptism. Men who accept the message of salvation in Christ naturally demand baptism.

II. The Conversion of Saul (Acts 9:1-30).
The great apostle of the Gentiles is now laid hold of by the Lord Jesus and made a flaming evangel of the Cross to the whole world. We thus see the Lord making ready for the widest dissemination of the Gospel of His grace.

III. The Gospel Spreads to Asia Minor (Acts 9:31-15:35).
1. Peter at Joppa (Acts 9:32-43). On his tour of evangelizing Peter came down to Joppa and lodged with Simon, a tanner. This shows the widening of his sympathy in that a Jew was willing to lodge with one of such an occupation.
2. The Conversion of Cornelius (Acts 10). In the conversion of this Gentile and the coming of the Spirit upon him, the middle wall of partition between Jew and Gentile was broken down. The way was now open for the further outreach of the Gospel.
3. Paul's First Missionary Journey (Acts 13, 14). The Spirit of God now came upon the church for the definite purpose of preaching the Gospel to the whole world. Paul and Barnabas with John Mark went out preaching the Gospel through the provinces of Asia Minor.
4. The Conditions of Gentile Salvation Settled (Acts 15:1-35). Before the Gospel could be preached to the whole world the dispute in the church over the condition of Gentile salvation had to be settled, so a council was held at Jerusalem in which these conditions were clearly settled.

In the Light of the Bible.
Dr. A. C. Dixon is quoted as having said: "We have been studying the Bible in the light of modern scholarship. The time has come for us to study modern scholarship in the light of the Bible." Quite a correct observation!—Southern Methodist.

In Christ's Society.
"Ten minutes spent in Christ's society every day, aye, two minutes, if it be face to face and heart to heart, will make the whole day different."—Heidelberg Teacher.

Walking Snakes.
It is supposed that the early ancestors of modern snakes walked on four legs. Some big serpents, such as the boas, even now have rudimentary hindlegs. But the "feet" on which all snakes do their walking today are the cartilaginous extremities of their ribs. To preserve these is the greatest difficulty in the preparation of an ophidian skeleton.

DIED IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Frank Gillilan Passed Away After Operation at Mt. Carmel.

Mrs. Ella Allen Gillilan, wife of Rev. Frank Gillilan, of Malta, died Wednesday forenoon about 11 o'clock at Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, following an operation for obstruction of the bowels.

Mrs. Gillilan was the sister of Dr. H. C. Allen, of this city, and the family lived at Williamsport and Ashville where Rev. Gillilan was pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of each village.

She is survived by her husband and three sons and two daughters. They are Fred Gillilan, of Alberta, Canada; Charles Gillilan, of Orange, New Jersey; Willard Gillilan, of New York City; Miss Hattie Gillilan, a teacher in the Delaware, Ohio, public schools and Miss Ethel Gillilan, at home.

Of her immediate family she leaves two brothers; Dr. H. C. Allen, of this city and Dr. Charles O. Allen, of Logan.

Mrs. Gillilan was a splendid type of Christian womanhood and exerted a great influence for good in every community in which she lived. All who had the privilege of knowing her, feel a personal loss in her death. She was a woman of more than ordinary attainments, and this combined with her cheerful disposition and fine sense of righteousness gave her an influence for good whose results cannot be measured.

She was a wonderful mother, and leaves to her children a precious memory, better than gold.

The funeral services were held at Malta this afternoon. Burial will be in the cemetery at Logan tomorrow afternoon.

RELIEF CORPS OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Woman's Relief corps Tuesday the following officer were elected; President, Mrs. Harriet Stevenson; senior vice president and chaplain, Mrs. Jennie McCrady; junior vice president, Mrs. Nellie Boyle; secretary, Mrs. Belle Myers; treasurer, Mrs. Hattie Wilson; conductress, Mrs. Mary Kinder; assistant conductress, Mrs. Rachel Van Meter.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

Tuesday, December 18, 1923
AT
1 P. M. at Court House
Circleville, Ohio.

The undersigned, as executor of the estate of Jesse Y. Wilson, deceased, will offer two farms belonging to the estate of said decedent pursuant to the will and to close said estate.

First Tract.

The first tract contains 196 acres and 103 poles, more or less, and is situated two and one-half miles north of Darbyville on the Darbyville and Commercial Point (Genoa road). The soil is excellent and under good state of cultivation, is well tiled and fences good. There is a six room, frame residence, a large barn capable of accommodating 100 head of cattle, 18 head of horses, 18 cows, and a large silo in the center of the barn with a capacity of 400 tons of ensilage.

There is also provision for housing 15 brood sows and mow room for 200 tons of hay and there are three hay carrier tracks in the mow. There is also a smokehouse, coal house, wood house, cow barn, corn cribs, wagon shed and implement shed; also three wind pumps and a tenant house. The land is situate in Muhlenberg and Scioto townships, Pickaway county, Ohio, and is one of the best improved farms in the county.

Second Tract

The second tract contains 58 acres and is situate in Scioto township, Pickaway county, Ohio, 3 1/2 miles north of Darbyville, on the Darbyville and Commercial Point pike. This land is well tiled and well fenced but without buildings; the soil is excellent.

The above lands will be offered separately and then as a whole and sold so as to realize the most money. Possession given March 1, 1924. Purchaser to take the landlord's share of the wheat crop and to pay taxes due June 20, 1924 and all thereafter.

TERMS:—One-third in cash, one-third in one and one-third in two years from day of sale, deferred payments to be secured by first mortgage on premises sold and to bear interest from day of sale.

For further particulars, see

BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION

Proceeds of Christmas Seals Will be Used to Stamp Out Tuberculosis.

Health Nurse is Doing a Wonderful Work in Circleville and All Should be Glad to Help—Put Your Dollar in Envelope and Send to Association.

The Circleville Benevolent association met Tuesday afternoon, December 3, in the city cottage for the usual monthly meeting with ten ladies present.

Miss Phelps, our health nurse gives a full report at each meeting of the work done thru the month. She reported having made 275 calls during November. Can you realize how much those visits mean to the health of our community? On the average, perhaps, that is as many calls as any doctor makes thru the month.

She not only gives advice and nurses the sick, but bathes the patient when necessary, dresses wounds and answers every demand. She was present at the birth of six babies last month and for nine days afterward cared for these children and mothers.

Can one estimate the good that comes to these homes thru teaching these mothers how to properly care for their children? She also at her office took care of 40 calls of many different demands.

Besides all this work, Miss Phelps, with help from other members of the association, has weighed and examined nearly 1000 children in the schools all grades up to the fourth. She found nearly 200 who are more than five pounds under weight. Last year the association gave milk to 44 under weight children and had such splendid results from this method of health work, both in the children's mental and physical improvement that the association is hoping to find a way to provide milk for all under weight children this year.

Do the citizens of Circleville appreciate what this handful of men and women who are helping Miss Phelps look after the health of the community are accomplishing?

The association, thru the sale of Christmas seals, finances this splendid organization and is making an appeal to the general public thru this dollar sale which will be on the last of the week.

Eighty cents out of every dollar you give stays in Circleville, ten cents goes to the State and ten cents to the National Tuberculosis association to help stamp out tuberculosis. When you receive the envelope, take out the stamps and put your dollar in the enclosed envelope and return to the Circleville Benevolent association.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Lovie L. Laughlin, daughter of Mrs. Addie Laughlin, of this city, to Thomas L. Wright, of Omaha, Nebraska, which was consummated last Monday morning at the Central Methodist church in Springfield will be pleasing news to the bride's many friends in this city. Rev. Mr. Hoffman performed the ceremony at the parsonage. The groom is a son of Andrew J. Wright, of Eckley, Colorado. The young couple arrived here Wednesday for a visit to her mother. They will return to Springfield to make that place their home and will reside at 325 Greenmount street. Mrs. Wright was for a number of years a clerk in the Hamilton & Ryan drug store.

Mrs. Nelson J. Ruggles, of 721 East Broad street, Columbus, gave a musical tea at the Athletic club Tuesday afternoon, complimenting Mrs. S. Turney Ruggles, of this city, and Miss Marie Donovan, of Columbus. Among the list of assisting hostesses were nieces of the hostesses, Mrs. Joseph Noecker and Miss Miriam Ruggles, of this city.

FUNERAL OF ISAAC RIEGEL.

The funeral of the late Isaac Riegel was held Wednesday afternoon at Cedar Hill. Those who attended the funeral from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Trout, William Heffner, Frank Heffner, Mr. and Mrs. U. L. Riegel and daughter, Myrtle, and son, Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lape, Enoch Riegel, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Deffenbaugh, Charles Griffith, Mrs. Felix Swope of Lancaster; Marion Alstadt of Laureville; Boyd Swope of Canal Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Trout and Clyde Barr, of Amanda.

AMUSEMENTS

Herbert Brenon's latest Paramount production, "The Woman With Four Faces" with Betty Compson and Richard Dix in the featured roles, proved itself a decidedly entertaining picture at its premier at the Met theater last night.

This production differs from the ordinary melodrama in that it is treated in the highest possible degree of polish. The love interest, following thrill after thrill, moves swiftly and surprisingly to a fine climax and has a happy ending. Miss Compson, as Elizabeth West, an attractive girl the clever crook has one of the finest roles of her career. Caught after the commission of one of her escapades, Elizabeth (Miss Compson) is brought to trial, but acquitted.

The district attorney, Richard Temple, played by Richard Dix, enlists the aid of Elizabeth in carrying out a plan by which several prominent men who are carrying on a traffic in drugs may be brought to justice. It is thru Elizabeth that the expose is accomplished. This is her "last job," and as the picture closes we find her promising the district attorney to be his partner for life.

Supporting the principal players is an exceptionally strong cast, including George Fawcett, Theodore Von Eltz, Joseph Kilgour, James Farley and Guy Oliver.

Some of the famous Russian crown jewels were loaned to Jackie Coogan for scenes in his first Metro picture, "Long Live the King." Most of these gems are in the custody of the Bolshevik government in Moscow, but a few pieces of the collection escaped the general confiscation, and it is some of these that form the Howard collection, and are worn by the young star and various members of his supporting cast.

JACKIE COOGAN

As Prince Ferdinand William Otto, Jackie wears the famous Czarevitch ring, symbol of the station of Crown Prince of the Romanoff family—a diamond marquise stone set in platinum, a full seventeen carats in weight and worth conservatively forty-five thousand dollars in gold. The various ladies of the court—principally Ruth Renick as Princess Hedwig and Rosemary Theby as Countess Olga Loschek wear other pieces of jewelry aggregating in value approximately $150,000. The authenticity of these jewels was attested by consular letters from the late Emperor Nicholas' representatives in London and Paris.

"Long Live the King" is a screen version by C. Gardner Sullivan of Mary Robert Rinehart's novel. It was produced under the supervision of Jack Coogan Sr., and directed by Victor Schertzinger. The cast includes Alan Hale, Robert Brower, Loretta McDermet, Ruth Renick and Rosemary Theby. At the Met theater Monday, December 10.

SUITABLE FOR CHRISTMAS.

"Silverbrite" cleans gold, silver, nickel, etc., without rubbing. Is a chemically treated plate and cleans by putting the silver on the plate in a vessel of hot water.

Mrs. W. G. Jacob has taken the agency and will be pleased to demonstrate it to you. 6dec23.

Sandpapering Paint.

In removing old paint dampen the sandpaper with benzine and the work can be accomplished in half the time.

COOLIDGE VIEWS TOLD IN ADDRESS TO CONGRESS

President in His Message to Lawmakers, Defends Policies.

TO FOLLOW HARDING'S IDEAS

Is Opposed to League of Nations, but Favors World Court—Wants Disabled Veterans Cared For, but Is Opposed to Granting a Bonus.

Washington.—President Coolidge in his first message to the congress had the following recommendations to offer:

Since the close of the last congress the nation has lost President Harding. The world knew his kindness and his humanity, his greatness and his character. He has left his mark upon history. He has made justice more certain and peace more secure. The surpassing tribute paid to his memory as he was borne across the continent to rest at last at home revealed the place he held in the hearts of the American people. But this is not the occasion for extended reference to the man or his work. In this presence, among those who knew and loved him, that is unnecessary. But we who were associated with him could not resume together the functions of our office without pausing for a moment, and in his memory recommitting ourselves to the service of our country. He is gone. We remain. It is our duty, under the inspiration of his example, to take up the burdens which he was permitted to lay down, and to develop and support the wise principles of government which he represented.

Foreign Affairs.
For us peace reigns everywhere. We desire to perpetuate it always by granting full justice to others and requiring of others full justice to ourselves.

Our country has one cardinal principle to maintain in its foreign policy. It is an American principle. It must be an American policy. We attend to our own affairs, conserve our own strength, and protect the interests of our own citizens; but we recognize thoroughly our obligation to help others, reserving to the decision of our own judgment the time, the place, and the method. We realize the common bond of humanity. We know the inescapable law of service.

Our country has definitely refused to adopt and ratify the covenant of the League of Nations. We have not felt warranted in assuming the responsibilities which its members have assumed. I am not proposing any change in this policy; neither is the senate. The incident, so far as we are concerned, is closed. The league exists as a foreign agency. We hope it will be helpful. But the United States sees no reason to limit its own freedom and independence of action by joining it. We shall do well to recognize this basic fact in all national affairs and govern ourselves accordingly.

World Court.
Our foreign policy has always been guided by two principles. The one is the avoidance of permanent political alliance which would sacrifice our proper independence. The other is the peaceful settlement of controversies between nations. By example and by treaty we have advocated arbitration. For nearly 25 years we have been a member of The Hague tribunal, and have long sought the creation of a permanent World Court of Justice. I am in full accord with both of these policies. I favor the establishment of such a court intended to include the whole world. That is, and has long been, an American policy.

Pending before the senate is a proposal that this government give its support to the Permanent Court of International Justice, which is a new and somewhat different plan. This is not a partisan question. It should not assume an artificial importance. The court is merely a convenient instrument of adjustment to which we could go, but to which we could not be brought. It should be discussed with entire candor, not by a political but by a judicial method without pressure and without prejudice. Partisanship has no place in our foreign relations. As I wish to see a court established, and as the proposal presents the only practical plan on which many nations have ever agreed, though it may not meet every desire, I therefore commend it to the favorable consideration of the senate, with the proposed reservations clearly indicating our refusal to adhere to the League of Nations.

Russia.
Our diplomatic relations, lately so largely interrupted, are now being resumed, but Russia presents notable difficulties. We have every desire to see that great people, who are our traditional friends, restored to their position among the nations of the earth. We have relieved their pitiable destitution with an enormous charity. Our government offers no objection to the carrying on of commerce by our citizens with the people of Russia. Our government does not propose, however, to enter into relations with another regime which refuses to recognize the sanctity of international obligations. I do not propose to barter away for the privilege of trade any of the cherished rights of humanity. I do not propose to make merchandise of any American principles. These rights and principles must go wherever the sanctions of our government go.

But while the favor of America is not for sale, I am willing to make very large concessions for the purpose of rescuing the people of Russia. Already encouraging evidences of returning to the ancient ways of society can be detected. But more are needed. Whenever there appears any disposition to compensate our citizens who were despoiled, and to recognize that debt contracted with our government, not by the czar, but by the newly formed republic of Russia; whenever the active spirit of enmity to our institutions is abated; whenever there appear works mete for repentance; our country ought to be the first to go to the economic and moral rescue of Russia. We have every desire to help and no desire to injure. We hope the time is near at hand when we can act.

Debts.
The current debt and interest due from foreign governments, exclusive of the British debt of $4,000,000,000, is about $7,200,000,000. I do not favor the cancellation of this debt, but I see no objection to adjusting it in accordance with the principle adopted for the British debt. Our country would not wish to assume the role of an oppressive debtor, but would maintain the principle that financial obligations between nations are likewise moral obligations which international faith and honor require should be discharged.

Our government has a liquidated claim against Germany for the expense of the army of occupation of over $225,000,000. Besides this, the mixed claims commission have before them about 12,500 claims of American citizens, aggregating about $1,225,000,000. These claims have already been reduced by a recent decision, but there are valid claims reaching well toward $500,000,000. Our thousands of citizens with credits due them of hundreds of millions of dollars have no redress save in the action of our government. These are very substantial interests, which it is the duty of our government to protect as best it can. That course I propose to pursue.

It is for these reasons that we have a direct interest in the economic recovery of Europe. They are enlarged by our desire for the stability of civilization and the welfare of humanity. That we are making sacrifices to that end none can deny. Our deferred interest alone amounts to a million dollars every day. But recently we offered to aid with our advice and counsel. We have reiterated our desire to see France paid and Germany revived. We have proposed disarmament. We have earnestly sought to compose differences and restore peace. We shall persevere in well-doing, not by force, but by reason.

Foreign Service.
The foreign service of our government needs to be reorganized and improved.

Fiscal Condition.
Our main problems are domestic problems. Financial stability is the first requisite of sound government. We cannot escape the effect of world conditions. We cannot avoid the inevitable results of the economic disorders which have reached all nations. But we shall diminish their harm to us in proportion as we continue to restore our government finances to a secure and enduring position. This we can do and must do. Upon that firm foundation rests the only hope of progress and prosperity. From that source must come relief for the people.

This is being accomplished by a drastic but orderly retrenchment, which is bringing our expenses within our means. The origin of this has been the determination of the American people, the main support has been the courage of those in authority, and the effective method has been the budget system. The result has involved real sacrifice by department heads, but it has been made without flinching. This system is a law of the congress. It represents your will. It must be maintained, and ought to be strengthened by the example of your observance. Without a budget system there can be no fixed responsibility and no constructive scientific economy.

Another reform which is urgent in our fiscal system is the abolition of the right to issue tax-exempt securities. The existing system not only permits a large amount of the wealth of the nation to escape its just burden but acts as a continual stimulant to municipal extravagance. This should be prohibited by constitutional amendment. All the wealth of the nation ought to contribute its fair share to the expenses of the nation.

Tariff Law.
The present tariff law has accomplished its two main objects. It has secured an abundant revenue and been productive of an abounding prosperity. Under it the country has had a very large export and import trade. A constant revision of the tariff by the congress is disturbing and harmful. The present law contains an elastic provision authorizing the President to increase or decrease present schedules not in excess of 50 per centum to meet the difference in cost of production at home and abroad. This does not, to my mind, warrant a rewriting of the whole law, but does mean, and will be so administered, that whenever the required investigation shows that inequalities of sufficient importance exist in any schedule, the power to change them should and will be applied.

Shipping.
The entire well being of our country is dependent upon transportation by sea and land. Our government during the war acquired a large merchant fleet which should be transferred, as soon as possible, to private ownership and operation under conditions which would secure two results: First, and of prime importance, adequate means for national defense; second, adequate service to American commerce. Until shipping conditions are such that our fleet can be disposed of advantageously under these conditions, it will be operated as economically as possible under such plans as may be advised from time to time by the shipping board. We must have a merchant marine which meets these requirements, and we shall have to pay the cost of its service.

Public Improvements.
The time has come to resume in a moderate way the opening of our intracoastal waterways; the control of flood waters of the Mississippi and of the Colorado rivers; the improvement of the waterways from the Great Lakes toward the Gulf of Mexico; and the development of the great power and navigation project of the St. Lawrence river, for which efforts are now being made to secure the necessary treaty with Canada. These projects cannot all be undertaken at once, but all should have the immediate consideration of the congress and be adopted as fast as plans can be matured and the necessary funds become available. This is not incompatible with economy, for their nature does not require so much a public expenditure as a capital investment which will be reproductive, as evidenced by the marked increase in revenue from the Panama canal. Upon these projects depend much future industrial and agricultural progress. They represent the protection of large areas from flood and the addition of a great amount of cheap power and cheap freight by use of navigation, chief of which is the bringing of ocean-going ships to the Great Lakes.

Another problem of allied character is the superpower development of the northeastern states, consideration of which is proceeding under the direction of the Department of Commerce by joint conference with the local authorities.

Railroads.
Criticism of the railroad law has been directed, first, to the section laying down the rule by which rates are fixed, and providing for payment to the government and use of excess earnings; second, to the method for the adjustment of wage scales; and third, to the authority permitting consolidations.

It has been erroneously assumed that the act undertakes to guarantee railroad earnings. The law requires that rates should be just and reasonable. That, has always been the rule under which rates have been fixed. To make a rate that does not yield a fair return results in confiscation, and confiscatory rates are of course unconstitutional. Unless the government adheres to the rule of making a rate that will yield a fair return, it must abandon rate making altogether. The new and important feature of that part of the law is the recapture and redistribution of excess rates. The constitutionality of this method is now before the Supreme court for adjudication. Their decision should be awaited before attempting further legislation on this subject. Furthermore, the importance of this feature will not be great if consolidation goes into effect.

The settlement of railroad labor disputes is a matter of grave public concern. The labor board was established to protect the public in the enjoyment of continuous service by attempting to insure justice between the companies and their employees. It has been a great help, but is not altogether satisfactory to the public, the employees, or the companies. If a substantial agreement can be reached among the groups interested, there should be no hesitation in enacting such agreement into law. If it is not reached, the labor board may very well be left for the present to protect the public welfare.

The law for consolidations is not sufficiently effective to be expeditious. Additional legislation is needed giving authority for voluntary consolidations, both regional and route, and providing government machinery to aid and stimulate such action, always subject to the approval of the interstate commerce commission. This should authorize the commission to appoint committees for each proposed group, representing the public and the component roads, with power to negotiate with individual security holders for an exchange of their securities for those of the consolidation on such terms and conditions as the commission may prescribe for avoiding any confiscation and preserving fair values. Should this permissive consolidation prove ineffective after a limited period, the authority of the government will have to be directly invoked.

Consolidation appears to be the only feasible method for the maintenance of an adequate system of transportation with an opportunity so to adjust freight rates as to meet such temporary conditions as now prevail in some agricultural sections. Competent authorities agree that an entire reorganization of the rate structure for freight is necessary. This should be ordered at once by the congress.

Department of Justice.
As no revision of the laws of the United States has been made since 1878, a commission or committee should be created to undertake this work. The judicial council reports that two more district judges are needed in the southern district of New York, one in the northern district of Georgia, and two more circuit judges in the Circuit Court of Appeals of the Eight circuit. Legislation should be considered for this purpose.

Prohibition.
The prohibition amendment to the Constitution requires the congress and the President to provide adequate laws to prevent its violation. It is my duty to enforce such laws. For that purpose a treaty is being negotiated with Great Britain with respect to the right of search of hovering vessels. To prevent smuggling, the coast guard should be greatly strengthened, and a supply of swift power boats should be provided. The major sources of production should be rigidly regulated, and every effort should be made to suppress interstate traffic. With this action on the part of the national government, and the co-operation which is usually rendered by municipal and state authorities, prohibition should be made effective. Free government has no greater menace than disrespect for authority and continual violation of law. It is the duty of a citizen not only to observe the law but to let it be known that he is opposed to its violation.

The Negro.

Numbered among our population are some 12,000,000 colored people. Under our Constitution their rights are just as sacred as those of any other citizen. It is both a public and a private duty to protect those rights. The congress ought to exercise all its powers of prevention and punishment against the hideous crime of lynching, of which the negroes are by no means the sole sufferers, but for which they furnish a majority of the victims.

Regulatory Legislation.

Co-operation with other maritime powers is necessary for complete protection of our coast waters from pollution. Plans for this are under way, but await certain experiments for refuse disposal. Meantime laws prohibiting spreading oil and oil refuse from vessels in our own territorial waters would be most helpful against this menace and should be speedily enacted.

Laws should be passed regulating aviation.

Revision is needed of the laws regulating radio interference.

Legislation and regulations establishing load lines to provide safe loading of vessels leaving our ports are necessary and recodification of our navigation laws is vital.

Revision of procedure of the federal trade commission will give more constructive purpose to this department.

If our Alaskan fisheries are to be saved from destruction, there must be further legislation declaring a general policy and delegating the authority to make rules and regulations to an administrative body.

Army and Navy.

For several years we have been decreasing the personnel of the army and navy, and reducing their power to the danger point. Further reductions should not be made. The army is a guarantee of the security of our citizens at home; the navy is a guarantee of the security of our citizens abroad. Both of these services should be strengthened rather than weakened. Additional planes are needed for the army, and additional submarines for the navy. The defenses of Panama must be perfected. We want no more competitive armaments. We want no more war. But we want no weakness that invites imposition. A people who neglect their national defense are putting in jeopardy their national honor.

Insular Possessions.

Conditions in the insular possessions on the whole have been good. Their business has been reviving. They are being administered according to law. That effort has the full support of the administration. Such recommendations as may come from their people or their governments should have the most considerate attention.

Education and Welfare.

Our national government is not doing as much as it legitimately can do to promote the welfare of the people. Our enormous material wealth, our institutions, our whole form of society, cannot be considered fully successful until their benefits reach the merit of every individual. This is not a suggestion that the government should, or could, assume for the people the inevitable burdens of existence. There is no method by which we can either be relieved of the results of our own folly or be guaranteed a successful life. There is an inescapable personal responsibility for the development of character, of industry, of thrift, and of self control. These do not come from the government, but from the people themselves. But the government can and should always be expressive of steadfast determination, always vigilant, to maintain conditions under which these virtues are most likely to develop and secure recognition and reward. This is the American policy.

It is in accordance with this principle that we have enacted laws for the protection of the public health and have adopted prohibition in narcotic drugs and intoxicating liquors. For purposes of national uniformity we ought to provide, by constitutional amendment and appropriate legislation, for a limitation of child labor, and in all cases under the exclusive jurisdiction of the federal government a minimum wage law for women, which would undoubtedly find sufficient power of enforcement in the influence of public opinion.

Immigration.

American institutions rest solely on good citizenship. They were created by people who had a background of self-government. New arrivals should Taking No Chances.

An Englishman staying at a Nevada ranch suggested that his host should take a walk with him to a mountain that looked close at hand. The Englishman was deceived in the appearance of the distance owing to the rarity of the atmosphere. After walking several hours the mountain seemed no nearer.

Returning by a different route, the pair came upon an irrigated field.

At the first ditch the Englishman sat down and began to remove his shoes.

"What are you going to do?" inquired the Nevada.

The Englishman contemplated the ditch and said, "Why, I'm going to swim this blooming river."

be limited to our capacity to absorb them into the ranks of good citizenship. America must be kept American. For this purpose, it is necessary to continue a policy of restricted immigration. It would be well to make such immigration of a selective nature with some inspection at the source, and based either on a prior census or upon the record of naturalization. Either method would insure the admission of those with the largest capacity and best intention of becoming citizens. I am convinced that our present economic and social conditions warrant a limitation of those to be admitted. We should find additional safety in a law requiring the immediate registration of all aliens. Those who do not want to be partakers of the American spirit ought not to settle in America.

Veterans.

No more important duty falls on the government of the United States than the adequate care of its veterans. Those suffering disabilities incurred in the service must have sufficient hospital relief and compensation. Their dependents must be supported. Rehabilitation and vocational training must be completed. All of this service must be clean, must be prompt and effective, and it must be administered in a spirit of the broadest and deepest human sympathy. If investigation reveals any present defects of administration or need of legislation, orders will be given for the immediate correction of administration, and recommendations for legislation should be given the highest preference.

At present there are 9,500 vacant beds in government hospitals. I recommend that all hospitals be authorized at once to receive and care for, without hospital pay, the veterans of all wars needing such care, whenever there are vacant beds, and that immediate steps be taken to enlarge and build new hospitals to serve all such cases.

The American Legion will present to congress a legislative program too extensive for detailed discussion here. It is a carefully matured plan. While some of it I do not favor, with much of it I am in hearty accord, and I recommend that a most painstaking effort be made to provide remedies for any defects in the administration of the present laws which their experience has revealed. The attitude of the government toward these proposals should be one of generosity. But I do not favor the granting of a bonus.

Coal.

The cost of coal has become unbearably high. It places a great burden on our industrial and domestic life. The public welfare requires a reduction in the price of fuel. With the enormous deposits in existence, failure of supply ought not to be tolerated. Those responsible for the conditions in this industry should undertake its reform and free it from any charge of profiteering.

The report of the coal commission will be before the congress. It comprises all the facts. It represents the mature deliberations and conclusions of the best talent and experience that ever made a national survey of the production and distribution of fuel. I do not favor government ownership or operation of coal mines. The need is for action under private ownership that will secure greater continuity of production and greater public protection. The federal government probably has no peace-time authority to regulate wages, prices, or profits in coal at the mines or among dealers, but by ascertaining and publishing facts it can exercise great influence.

Reorganization.

A special joint committee has been appointed to work out a plan for a reorganization of the different departments and bureaus of the government more scientific and economical than the present system. With the exception of the consolidation of the War and Navy departments and some minor details, the plan has the general sanction of the President and the cabinet. It is important that reorganization be enacted into law at the present session.

Agriculture.

Aided by the sound principles adopted by the government, the business of the country has had an extraordinary revival. Looked at as a whole, the nation is in the enjoyment of remarkable prosperity. Industry and commerce are thriving. For the most part agriculture is successful, eleven staples having risen in value from about $5,300,000,000 two years ago to about $7,000,000,000 for the current year. But range cattle are still low in price, and some sections of the wheat area, notably Minnesota, North Dakota and on west, have many cases of actual distress. With his products not selling on a parity with the products of industry, every sound remedy that can be devised should be applied for the relief of the farmer. He represents a character, a type of citizenship, and a public necessity that must be preserved and afforded every facility for regaining prosperity.

The distress is most acute among those wholly dependent upon one crop. Wheat acreage was greatly expanded and has not yet been sufficiently reduced. A large amount is raised for export, which has to meet the competition in the world market of large amounts raised on land much cheaper and much more productive.

No complicated scheme of relief, no plan for government fixing of prices, no resort to the public treasury will be of any permanent value in establishing agriculture. Simple and direct methods put into operation by the farmer himself are the only real sources for restoration.

Indirectly the farmer must be relieved by a reduction of national and local taxation. He must be assisted by the reorganization of the freight-rate structure which could reduce charges on his production. To make this fully effective there ought to be railroad consolidations. Cheaper fertilizers must be provided.

He must have organization. His customer with whom he exchanges products of the farm for those of industry is organized, labor is organized, business is organized, and there is no way for agriculture to meet this unless it, too, is organized. The acreage of wheat is too large. Unless we can meet the world market at a profit, we must stop raising for export. Organization would help to reduce acreage. Systems of co-operative marketing created by the farmers themselves, supervised by competent management, without doubt would be of assistance, but they cannot wholly solve the problem. Our agricultural schools ought to have thorough courses in the theory of organization and co-operative marketing.

Diversification is necessary. Those farmers who raise their living on their land are not greatly in distress. Such loans as are wisely needed to assist buying stock and other materials to start in this direction should be financed through a government agency as a temporary and emergency expedient.

The remaining difficulty is the disposition of exportable wheat. I do not favor the permanent interference of the government in this problem. That probably would increase the trouble by increasing production. But it seems feasible to provide government assistance to exports, and authority should be given the War Finance corporation to grant, in its discretion, the most liberal terms of payment for fats and grains exported for the direct benefit of the farm.

Muscle Shoals.

The government is undertaking to develop a great water-power project known as Muscle Shoals, on which it has expended many million dollars. The work is still going on. Subject to the right to retake in time of war, I recommend that this property with a location for auxiliary steam plant and rights of way be sold. This would end the present burden of expense and should return to the treasury the largest price possible to secure.

Reclamation.

By reason of many contributing causes, occupants of our reclamation projects are in financial difficulties, which in some cases are acute. Relief should be granted by definite authority of law empowering the secretary of the interior in his discretion to suspend, readjust, and reassess all charges against water users. This whole question is being considered by experts. You will have the advantage of the facts and conclusions which they may develop. This situation, involving a government investment of more than $135,000,000, and affecting more than 30,000 water users, is serious. While relief which is necessary should be granted, yet contracts with the government which can be met should be met. The established general policy of these projects should not be abandoned for any private control.

Highways and Forests.

Highways and reforestation should continue to have the interest and support of the government. Everyone is anxious for good highways. I have made a liberal proposal in the budget for the continuing payment to the states by the federal government of its share for this necessary public improvement. No expenditure of public money contributes so much to the national wealth as for building good roads.

Reforestation has an importance far above the attention it usually secures. A special committee of the senate is investigating this need, and I shall welcome a constructive policy based on their report.

It is 100 years since our country announced the Monroe doctrine. This principle has been ever since, and is now, one of the main foundations of our foreign relations. It must be maintained. But in maintaining it we must not be forgetful that a great change has taken place. We are no longer a weak nation, thinking mainly of defense, dreading foreign imposition. We are great and powerful. New powers bring new responsibilities. Our duty then was to protect ourselves. Added to that, our duty now is to help give stability to the world. We want idealism. We want that vision which lifts men and nations above themselves. These are virtues by reason of their own merit. But they must not be cloistered; they must not be impractical; they must not be ineffective.

The world has had enough of the curse of hatred and selfishness, of destruction and war. It has had enough of the wrongful use of material power. For the healing of the nations there must be good will and charity, confidence and peace. The time has come for a more practical use of moral power, and more reliance upon the principle that right makes its own might. Our authority among the nations must be represented by justice and mercy. It is necessary not only to have faith, but to make sacrifices for our faith. The spiritual forces of the world make all its final determinations. It is with these voices that America should speak. Whenever they declare a righteous purpose there need be no doubt that they will be heard. America has taken her place in the world as a republic—free, independent, powerful. The best service that can be rendered to humanity is the assurance that the place will be maintained.

In the Tudor Sedan a wholly new Ford body type is offered American motorists.

It is distinguished by a compact, roomy body, two wide doors opening forward, and folding right front seat.

Large windows affording an open view in every direction, make for safer driving and greater motorist enjoyment.

At $590, this is the lowest priced Sedan ever placed on the American market.

It is a car of broad appeal and compelling value.

This car can be obtained through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

EGG RECORDS IN PICKAWAY

Mrs. Will Hay is First With 135.68 Per Hen for White Wyandottes.

Mrs. Clara Wright is Second; Miss Mary McKenzie Third; E. C. Shupe, Fourth, and E. E. Fetherolf is Fifth. Records Give Valuable Data of Cost.

Eleven flock owners who have been keeping records of production and costs in cooperation with the Farm Bureau have just completed a year's work. Ten of the eleven flocks have records averaging more than one hundred and ten eggs per hen which is fifty per cent above the average production of the ordinary flock in Pickaway county.

First place goes to Mrs. Will Hay, of Walnut township with an average of 135.68 eggs per hen for her flock of White Leghorns, showing a profit above feed costs of $280. Mrs. Clara Wright, of Harrison township, is second with her flock of Buff Orpingtons with an average of 132.4 eggs per hen. Mary McKenzie, of Pickaway township is third with an average of 128.79 eggs per hen for her flock of White Leghorns. Fourth place goes to E. C. Shupe of Saltcreek township with an average of 124.28 eggs per hen. E. H. Fetherolf of Saltcreek township, is fifth with an average of 122.84 eggs per hen with his flock of Rhode Island Reds. The other flocks completing the year's work belong to Mrs. R. D. Head, Pickaway township; Mrs. E. H. Wardell, Wayne township; Mrs. J. C. Hines, Walnut township; Mrs. J. D. Carter, Deercreek township; Hay and Brinker, Walnut township; Lawrence Goodman, Circleville township. Most of these flock owners and several additional ones have signed coming year. The records furnished by these cooperators give some valuable data of the costs of producing eggs and show the practices that result in the greatest profit from a farm flock.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

The court of appeals, Judges Cushing, Hamilton and Bookwalter of the First district, heard arguments of counsel in the Hitler will case Tuesday morning. The style of the case is Denny E. Phillips and George H. Roof, as executors of Ellen Phillips, against the Board of Education of Pickaway township rural school district, of Pickaway county. The case was taken up by plaintiffs on error from the common pleas court. Barton Walters, Charles Gerhardt and I. F. Snyder represents the plaintiffs and Abernethy & Seyfert, C. A. Leist, Charles H. May and Charles Pretzman, the defendants.

CAMPAIGN PLANS ARE OUTLINED

Coolidge Pleased With Result in South Dakota.

TO NAME POLITICAL MANAGER

President to Write a Letter in Appreciation of South Dakota Republicans' Action and Bid For Support in Other States—Coolidge Indorsement an Empty One, Says Senator Johnson.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Jubilant over the indorsement given President Coolidge for the Republican nomination by the South Dakota proposal convention caused the white house to make its first formal announcement of the president's plans for the campaign.

As soon as officially notified of the action of the South Dakota convention, the president will write a letter of appreciation, which will also be a bid for support in other states.

The "keynote speech" of the president's campaign will be the address which he delivered to congress in joint session today. The president believes this speech contains as full a statement of his stand on pending issues as will be necessary to enable him to carry on a successful fight for delegates.

After delivering the message the president will wait a few days to receive the country's reaction to it, and will then announce his political manager and the managers of his campaign.

The president will entrust the management of his campaign to some one individual and will not make any speech-making tours from Washington. He is known to adhere to the belief that his remaining "on the job" here will be a great asset to him in the fight.

The indorsement of Senator Capper of Kansas as a running mate by the South Dakota convention is acceptable to the president, although he has not conferred with Capper on the subject.

The president's campaign manager may be Senator Moses of New Hampshire, William M. Butler, national committeeman from Massachusetts, or George Harvey. Will H. Hays has been asked to take the job, but so far has declined.

These announcements made at the white house represent the president's reaction to the first indorsement of his candidacy for the nomination given to him by any state in the Union.

But while the view of the South Dakota indorsement was arousing lively anticipations in the president's official family it was not being shared by Senator Johnson and his supporters. On the contrary, the opinion expressed by persons familiar with the South Dakota nominating system was to the effect that the Coolidge indorsement is an empty one and means absolutely nothing at all.

Senator Johnson declared the result is indecisive and that he will welcome an opportunity of contesting with the president for the South Dakota delegation in the March primary. He added: "Four years ago I had not a single vote in the South Dakota convention. Tuesday, without any effort of any sort I had more than one-third of the delegates."

Senator Norbeck of South Dakota, just returned from there, asserted that Johnson will carry the state in the primary to be held in March.

BRITISH AT POLLS TODAY

Eve of Election Marked by Outbreaks of Ruffianism.

London, Dec. 6.—The British electoral campaign closed last night with all parties making confident predictions as to the results. The Conservatives say they are certain to get a small working majority in commons; the Liberals assert that the country is going to spring an unforeseen surprise on the Conservatives; the Laborites insist the party will win at least 171 seats and become the official opposition in commons.

The eve of the polling was characterized by outbreaks of ruffianism. Lady Eustace Percy was struck in the face and severely injured by a broken cup which was thrown at her at Hastings. In South Wales Mrs. Elias, wife of the Liberal candidate, was kicked in the legs by a group of toughs. In the same neighborhood the wife of the Conservative candidate was also attacked and is now ill in bed. Viscount Curzon, contesting in the Battersea district, had to cancel two meetings on account of threats to assassinate him.

FREDERICK GILLETT

Re-elected Speaker of the House of Representatives.

BERGER TO HOLD SEAT

Milwaukee Socialist Leader Faces No Fight This Session.

Washington, Dec. 6.—There will be no fight this time on Victor L. Berger, Milwaukee Socialist leader, who was denied a seat in the house in the two previous congresses. This was made certain when no objection was raised when he was called up with the Wisconsin delegation to take the oath. The charges against Berger, which grew out of his activities during the war, have been dismissed by the United States supreme court since the house last refused to admit him.

INTERNATIONAL RACE TO THE NORTH POLE

One Million Square Miles of Territory the Stake.

Lakehurst, N. J., Dec. 6.—With preparations already under way for a world's record dash to the North pole next summer, the opinion was freely expressed that the flight will unofficially, but in reality, develop into the greatest international race in history.

It was pointed out that the contestants, the navy dirigible Shenandoah supplemented probably by airplanes, and Roald Amundsen in his ship Maud, also supplemented by airplanes, will strive to claim for their respective countries the 1,000,000 square miles of uncharted territory. It was made plain, however, that the territorial prize would be subsidiary to the scientific data which will be obtained by the polar flight, first conceived by Peary in 1916.

While it was stated semi-officially that the real purpose of the flight would be to observe the phenomena of the North magnetic pole, and the exploration of territory hitherto uncharted by man, a probable result would lead to the development of regular trans-polar dirigible mail routes and eventually should result in continuous air commerce during every month of the year. There are two reasons for this, viz: Statement by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, famous Arctic explorer, that with the use of the dirigible the supposed terrors of the far north would soon disappear, and announcement by Hakon Hammer, associate of Amundsen, that the Scandinavian expedition plans to carry mail to the North pole, postcards to be carried for $1 each.

OHIO'S STRONG BOX

Beginning of New Year Will See a Cash Balance of $21,000,000.

Columbus, Dec. 6.—State Auditor Tracy announced that Ohio will have a cash balance of $21,650,000 in its state treasury Jan. 1. Balance at the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1923, was $12,117,034.28, according to Tracy's annual report. The December collections of indirect taxes, which will amount to approximately $10,000,000, he predicts, will bring the balance well over $21,000,000. At the beginning of the last fiscal year, July 1, 1922, balance was only $9,969,876.20. Receipts during the 12 months totaled $29,266,481.08 and credit transfers of $423,342.78 made a total of $39,660,195.16 available for the year. Expenditures during the same period totaled $27,543,159.88. Operating expenses amounted to $16,273,603.47.

ARSON CHARGE AGAINST HIM

Man Sought for Years Is Arrested in California.

MOURNED AS SLAYER'S VICTIM

Said to Have Disappeared After Leaving "Widow" and Two Small Children Well Provided With Life Insurance—Prisoner Once a Prosperous Business Man in Wisconsin. Woman Companion Detained.

Napa, Cal., Dec. 6.—Sought throughout the country for four years, Edward Sallstad, 30, once a wealthy business man in the little town of Eau Claire, Wis., and mourned for a time as the victim of a murderer, was arrested in St. Helena, Cal., near here on telegraphic advices, charged with arson.

Questioned by District Attorney Thomas Anglin, Sallstad said, according to the authorities, that he had exhumed the body of a man named Andrew McPhee from a cemetery at Lake Nebagamon, Wis., summer resort, in October, 1919, removed it to a cottage and then set the place on fire, under circumstances intended to indicate that he himself had been burned to death. Then he disappeared.

Sallstad said that he was in financial difficulties and dropped out of a life which had become unbearable to him, leaving behind a "widow" and two small children, but leaving her well provided with $62,000 in insurance he had taken out in her name.

When taken into custody by Sheriff Harris and Undersheriff Steckler, Sallstad, who had assumed the name of Kingston, was traveling in an expensive automobile with a woman companion. She gave the name of Mary Brown, which is believed to be fictitious. She is being detained as a material witness. The woman told the district attorney that she had met Sallstad in Chicago and had been accompanying him throughout the nation by motor. She said she did not know he was a fugitive, but that she would remain with him "through thick and thin."

The prisoner almost collapsed when informed that he was wanted in the Wisconsin town charged with arson. Officials declared he said he thought he had made a clean get-away. He never corresponded with relatives or friends in his home state and he was mystified as to how he was finally trapped. Sallstad is alleged to have said the crime had almost constantly preyed on his mind and that he was glad he was caught at last. He said he would willingly go back to Wisconsin and would not fight extradition.

FRENCH PAPERS ACCUSED

Said to Have Received Bribes From Czar's Government.

Paris, Dec. 6.—The communist paper, Humanite, publishes amazing revelations, including letters from the former Russian ambassador found in the archives at Petrograd, alleging that certain French newspapers accepted large bribes from the czar's government in exchange for support. A letter signed by Arthur Raffalovich, financial counselor of the Russian embassy in Paris before the war, says: "In the first 10 months of 1905 the 'abominable venality' of the French press absorbed 600,000 francs." The letters name prominent editors who received money, one of them now a senator and Knight of the Legion of Honor.

Contest in Mexican Congress.

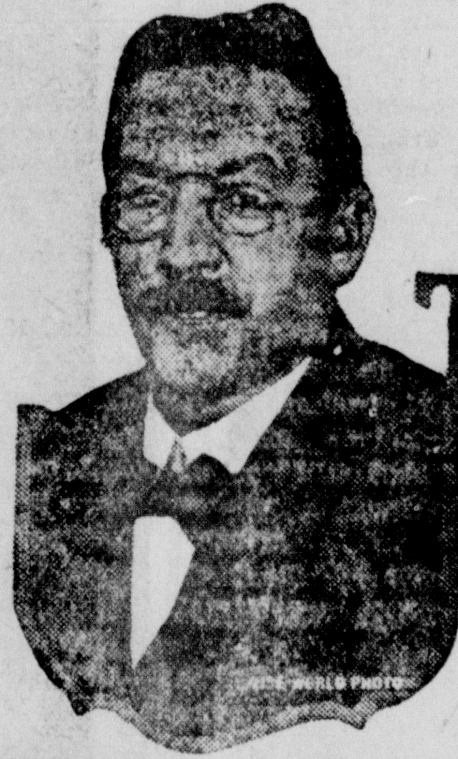

Mexico City, Dec. 6.—The political complexion of the Mexican congress remains in doubt, due to the lack of a quorum, thus leaving unsettled which of the presidential candidates will be in control for the coming month. Both the interior and exterior of the halls of congress presented a wartime picture, with the steps and corridors lined with police and federal soldiers, carrying full equipment to quell any disturbances. General Calles controls the senate and a battle is on to wrest the control of the house from the De la Huerta faction.

Nation's Housing Shortage.

Philadelphia, Dec. 6.—A shortage of between 800,000 and 1,000,000 houses in the United States was revealed by officials of the National Housing association, who are attending the session of the ninth national conference on housing in America. Three vital factors in the blockade on housing were summed up as high cost of money, high cost of material, high cost of labor.

DOCTOR MATTHES

DOINGS IN OHIO

Crabbe on Probe at Canton.

Columbus, Dec. 6.—Attorney General Crabbe announced he would "go along slowly" in deciding what action he will take to prosecute charges of graft and corruption in the Canton city government, filed with Governor Donahey and referred to Crabbe for investigation. "I intend to have an impartial survey and get all the available unbiased evidence I can before I act further," Crabbe said. He added he would send a representative from his department to Canton to make further investigation.

Double Tragedy.

Chillicothe, O., Dec. 6.—Dispute over division of the property of his dead wife, police say, caused Adam Frazier, laborer, to shoot his brother-in-law, Jacob Miller, with a shotgun and then fire a bullet into his own head, in an attempt to commit suicide. Miller was shot in the right arm. Frazier is wounded probably fatally.

Prisoner's Fatal Leap.

Columbus, Dec. 6.—Harry Wilson, 32, leaped from the third story window of the Ohio penitentiary "idle house" and received fatal injuries. Wilson's right leg was broken and he suffered internal hurts. He fell about 40 feet in his plunge. Wilson was received from Cleveland Nov. 19 last to serve 10 to 15 years on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Refund Sought.

Cincinnati, Dec. 6.—Hearing was started before C. T. Greve, referee in bankruptcy, here on claims filed by the government for the refund of $94,809 alleged to have been overpaid the Pfau Manufacturing company, Norwood, bankrupt, for the manufacture of water boxes for the cooling of machine guns during the war.

Hit by Speeding Auto.

Cincinnati, Dec. 6.—William Klable, 55, was struck by a speeding auto as he crossed a street here. His skull was fractured. The driver of the car sped away. Passersby picked up a headlight snapped off by the crash and gave it to police. The victim may die.

Branch Bank Robbed.

Dayton, O., Dec. 6.—Two armed bandits held up the City Trust and Savings company's branch bank and escaped in an automobile with $8,000 in cash. Seven customers were in the bank at the time. The gunmen gathered up what money was in the drawers and fled.

Two Hurt at Crossing.

Cleveland, Dec. 6.—Henry Jones of North Randall and his wife were seriously injured when their automobile was struck by an Erie railroad passenger train at a grade crossing. Mr. Jones is believed to have suffered a broken back.

Mary Lygo Returns Home.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Mary Lygo has gone home to her mother. With her departure the former "Follies beauty," who settled her breach of promise suit with Gordon Thorne, declared that she would drop all memories of it to become again plain Irene Goodall of Akron, O. "I'm going to forget there ever was a girl who called herself Mary Lygo," she said almost wearily.

Greece to Recognize Soviet.

Berlin, Dec. 6.—The Greek government, it is authoritatively learned, has sent M. Kakalidas to Moscow on a mission to negotiate recognition of the Russian communist government and at the same time arrange a commercial treaty.

CONGRESS GIVES EAR TO COOLIDGE

Both Branches Meet in Joint Session Today.

PROBLEMS PUT UP TO SOLONS

Two Contested Seats in the House Referred to the Elections Committee—Organization of House Carried Out in Accordance With Agreement Reached by Regular and Insurgent Republicans.

Washington, Dec. 6.—President Coolidge's appearance before a joint session of congress today was made possible when the insurgent Republicans, with their fight for an opportunity to liberalize the rules won, permitted the house to organize, with the re-election of Representative Frederick H. Gillett as speaker.

The routine of swearing in the 435 house members was sensationally interrupted when Representative Rainey (Dem., Ill.) objected to Representative Miller of the Twenty-second Illinois district being seated. He charged Miller with having diverted funds of the state of Illinois to his own campaign fund while he was state treasurer and candidate for congress. The question finally was referred to the election committee and Miller was sworn in.

Representative Britten (Rep., Ill.) countered the Rainey objection with a motion that Representative-elect James R. Buckley, Democrat of the Sixth Illinois district, whose election by a majority of less than 30 votes as being contested by his Republican predecessor, John J. Gorman, also not be allowed to take his seat. When Miller was seated, however, Britten withdrew his objection to Buckley, whose election also will be passed on by the election committee.

Following the delivery of the president's message, the house adjourned. When it meets again on Monday adjournment will be taken for another three days and this practice will be followed until the committee lists are completed and bills are prepared for consideration on the floor. In the meantime the Republican committee on committees will meet Friday morning to begin the task of filling committee vacancies. This work, it is estimated, will require at least two weeks.

Similar procedure with regard to the make-up of committees will be carried out in the senate, although the work on that side will not take so long. The Democrats on both sides will be able to make their committee assignments with little delay as soon as the majority advises them what the political apportionment is to be. In the senate it is likely, too, that there will be some speech making on foreign and domestic questions which are due to come up for consideration later.

Organization of the house was carried out in accordance with the agreement effected at a conference between the leaders of the insurgents and regulars.

WILL SEIZE HOMES

Dictator Von Kahr Warns Free Spenders Among the Rich.

Berlin, Dec. 6.—Dictator Von Kahr is determined to enforce the simple life among the wealthy Bavarians. From within his barbed wire barricaded official residence in Munich Von Kahr has issued a new order against the "good times" and "high living" of the free spenders among the rich. The dictator says that their lavish ways are a "public nuisance" and tend to create unrest among the less fortunate part of the public. Those found guilty hereafter will have their homes confiscated. Owing to the great scarcity of houses, the dictator believes the seizure of homes will be more of a deterrent than jail sentences.

See Business Expansion.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—All lines of business and industry will participate in a broad forward movement during 1924, leaders in representative industries say. The United States is in a healthy economic condition, they said, and the foundation is solid enough to warrant marked expansion.

Merger Negotiations Off.

New York, Dec. 6.—Confirmation of reports that the proposed merger of the Studebaker and Maxwell Motor companies had been abandoned was furnished by James C. Brady, a director of the Maxwell company, who declared that the overtures for such a union came from the Studebaker corporation.

COUNTESS DENIES CH. RGE

Declares She Was Never Engaged to Marquis De Pontevedes.

Paris, Dec. 5.—"I was never engaged to the Marquis de Pontevedes. He admired me and bombarded me with offers of marriage. He became so insistent, in fact, that I was forced to protect myself, by forbidding him to see me again. Whatever small gifts he made were entirely of his own volition. I warned him when I accepted some of them that I could not marry him."

Such is the statement issued in behalf of Countess de Beaurepaire de Grasset, widow of Ferris Thompson, Cincinnati millionaire, answering charges contained in the demand of Marquis de Pontevedes before the Seine tribunal for $40,000 damages for alleged breach of promise.

When Ferris Thompson died his French bride fell heir to a fortune estimated at $5,000,000 and a house in Paris valued at $3,000,000. According to Maitre Guildhermet, counsel for the marquis, the plaintiff possessed bills for a long list of valuable rings and necklaces. In addition, the marquis says, he literally denuded the historic mansion of his family to enrich the home of the woman with whom he was infatuated.

White Petitions Sent Out.

Columbus, Dec. 6.—Petitions for the candidacy of James A. White, Ohio Anti-Saloon league superintendent, for governor on the Republican ticket, are being sent out to Ohio drys by a Columbus organization which has handled the Anti-Saloon league's publicity. The petitions, it has been developed, are being accompanied with circular letters urging the circulation of the petitions. The petitions and letters, it was contended by the publicity organization, are being sent out at the instigation of a number of prominent dry Republicans.

Ford Was Star Pupil.

Detroit, Dec. 6.—When Charles C. Kellogg taught the Miller school in Dearborn township 44 years ago, Henry Ford was his star pupil. "He was about 16 years old when I took the school," said Mr. Kellogg, now superintendent of mills here, "and he was already known among the farmers as a mechanical genius. Whenever any of the neighbors had any trouble with their machinery they sent for Henry to repair it. He was working on a 'horseless carriage' even then."

Want Wiedfeldt.

Berlin, Dec. 6.—The Krupps have again asked Ambassador Wiedfeldt at Washington, according to good information, whether he can not see his way clear to resigning the ambassadorship and returning to Germany to resume one of the most important managerial posts in the great Krupp works at Essen. The foreign office says it is advised of the efforts of the Krupps, but that up to the present time no request has been received from Dr. Wiedfeldt to be relieved at Washington.

To Be Spent For Military Supplies.

Paris, Dec. 6.—The financial committee of the foreign commission has approved the loan of 700,000,000 francs to Poland and 300,000,000 francs to Jugoslavia. Premier Poincare explained that all the money will be spent in France for military supplies.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

SMALL TOWN HUMOR
AND PHILOSOPHY

By BUCK CAMPBELL

If a man's wife is his better half and he marries twice, what is left of him? Not much.

It is not surprising that there are microbes in kisses, but the most of us are willing to take a chance.

A married man objects to his wife going to a card party because she holds hands that are better than his.

If the average fellow was half as good as he tries to make others believe he is this world would be a paradise.

When a man says: "I run things at my house" he means the lawn mower or the washing machine, or something like that.

You do not have to cultivate bad habits; they grow luxuriantly without it. Boil weevil and other pestilence are no barrier to a good crop.

HERE AND THERE

Football took a toll of 19 lives during the season just passed, records compiled at Chicago show. Nine victims were high school students, five from colleges and universities and the remainder "semi-pro" players.

Eight bandits looted the Vandergrift distilling plant at Centerville Station, seven miles south of Brown-sville, Pa. They loaded three trucks with 37 barrels of whisky and escaped.

"Breadus White Sox," owned by A.
A. Armstrong & Sons of Pomargo, Ill., was crowned grand champion of yearling steers at the International Live Stock exposition, Chicago.

Fire destroyed one full block of old frame buildings in the business district of Richmond Mo., with a loss estimated at $750,000.

More than 800 persons have been killed directly and indirectly by poison liquor since Jan. 1, 1923, according to Frank Paul, special investigator for the coroner's office at Philadelphia.

Different.

"It says here," remarked Mrs. Johnson, in the midst of her reading, "that the man who takes a cold bath every morning, summer and winter, is the peacock of the human race."

"The which?" asked Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge.

"The peacock—the proudest person."
"Huh! He hain't no peacock. He's a thundering liar!"

What It Meant to Her.

"How strange," murmured the sweet young thing as she looked the interior of the bank over with a critical eye,
"how strange."

"What is strange?" asked a bystander.

"That sign over there. Why don't they make it read, 'Information' instead of 'Teller'?"—Toronto Globe.

Medicine in Zululand.

Native doctors in Zululand collect rich fees by blowing into the ears of their patients to cast out evil spirits.
The victim is seated on the blanketed floor of the outdoor surgery, and after announcing that he is to dispel the wicked demons causing the sickness, the medicine man places a horn to the patient's ear and blows. The ill one generally makes a bad face, cries "enough," and being convinced that he has been cured is troubled no more.
In severe cases where the horn is not effective herbs are used as a remedy.

BAZAAR AND CHICKEN SUPPER.

Not Merely Ordinary Hunger.

My aunt, who is noted for her skill at baking cakes and cookies, is very popular with the younger members of our family. One day while my small brother, aged 4, was visiting her he mentioned that he was hungry. Upon being presented with a piece of bread and butter, he said, "Oh, thank you;
I'm not that kind of hungry. I'm only cake hungry."—Exchange.

If you want good flour for bread bring your grist and come to the mill and get thirty-eight pounds of flour to the bushel or buy it from your grocers handled by nearly all the groceries in Circleville and country stores. Milled by J. E. Poynter, who made the Laurelville Special for years and as good a miller as there is in central Ohio. Flour tested by the Mid West laboratory, Columbus, and found first class in every respect. Bran and middlings and chop feed in reasonable amounts to farmer and dealers at all times; buyer of grains of all kind and hay and straw. Prices made to meet competition.

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 9
THE OUTREACH OF THE EARLY CHURCH

LESSON TEXT—Acts 8:4-8; 14-17; 25.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth."—Acts 1:8.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Philip Telling About Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Gospel Spreads to Samaria.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Gospel Spreads Through Persecution.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Expanding Missionary Vision and Activity.

I. The Gospel Spreads to Samaria (Acts 8:4-8; 14-17; 25).
1. Philip Preaching the Gospel in Samaria (vv. 4-8). Following the stoning of Stephen the enemies of the Lord were more active than ever in their efforts to stamp out the new faith. With Saul as their leader they dragged from their homes and imprisoned those who confessed Christ, but the Devil overreached himself in this, for this scattered the believers everywhere, and they preached the Gospel as they went. The time had now come for the witness-bearing to extend beyond Jerusalem and Judea as the Lord had commanded. The Lord permitted the persecution so as to scatter them.
2. Peter and John Visit Samaria (vv. 14-17; 25). When the Apostles heard of Philip's work in Samaria they sent two of their best men to encourage it. These men had discernment to know that the spirit had not yet fallen upon them and the Spirit was given them. These Samaritans were really converted, regenerated, but had not yet been filled with the Spirit. In this they were like many church members today without the Spirit's gift.
3. Philip Preaching to the Ethiopian Eunuch (Acts 8:30-40). In the conversion of the eunuch we see the Lord's work still broadening. The Gospel was first preached to the Samaritans who were nationally on the borderland between the Jews and the Gentiles. This Ethiopian was in all probability a Gentile, a proselyte to the Jewish faith. In his conversion we see the work reaching afar, even on its way to the ends of the earth. By divine direction Philip left his great work in Samaria and was directed to the eunuch. The Spirit of God directed him to go and join himself to the chariot of the Ethiopian. The coming together of these two men in the desert was providential. (1) The eunuch's employment on the way. He was reading the Word of God. (2) The absolute need of a preacher. The eunuch was reading the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah, one of the clearest testimonies of the Messiah in the Old Testament, yet was unable to understand it. The one thing needed in the salvation of men is for the saved man to bring the message to the unsaved. (3) The message of Philip was Jesus. He began at the Scriptures and preached Jesus. The central theme of the preacher's message should be Jesus. (4) The eunuch baptized. As a consequence of Philip's preaching the eunuch proposed baptism. Men who accept the message of salvation in Christ naturally demand baptism.

II. The Conversion of Saul (Acts 9: 1-30).
The great apostle of the Gentiles is now laid hold of by the Lord Jesus and made a flaming evangel of the Cross to the whole world. We thus see the Lord making ready for the widest dissemination of the Gospel of His grace.
III. The Gospel Spreads to Asia Minor (Acts 9:31-15:35).
1. Peter at Joppa (Acts 9:32-43). On his tour of evangelizing Peter came down to Joppa and lodged with Simon, a tanner. This shows the widening of his sympathy in that a Jew was willing to lodge with one of such an occupation.
2. The Conversion of Cornelius (Acts 10). In the conversion of this Gentile and the coming of the Spirit upon him, the middle wall of partition between Jew and Gentile was broken down. The way was now open for the further outreach of the Gospel.
3. Paul's First Missionary Journey (Acts 13, 14). The Spirit of God now came upon the church for the definite purpose of preaching the Gospel to the whole world. Paul and Barnabas with John Mark went out preaching the Gospel through the provinces of Asia Minor.
4. The Conditions of Gentile Salvation Settled (Acts 15:1-35). Before the Gospel could be preached to the whole world the dispute in the church over the condition of Gentile salvation had to be settled, so a council was held at Jerusalem in which these conditions were clearly settled.
In the Light of the Bible.
Dr. A. C. Dixon is quoted as having said: "We have been studying the Bible in the light of modern scholarship. The time has come for us to study modern scholarship in the light of the Bible." Quite a correct observation!—Southern Methodist.
In Christ's Society.
"Ten minutes spent in Christ's society every day, aye, two minutes, if it be face to face and heart to heart, will make the whole day different."—Heidelberg Teacher.

Walking Snakes.
It is supposed that the early ancestors of modern snakes walked on four legs. Some big serpents, such as the boas, even now have rudimentary hindlegs. But the "feet" on which all snakes do their walking today are the cartilaginous extremities of their ribs. To preserve these is the greatest difficulty in the preparation of an ophiolite skeleton.

DIED IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Frank Gillilan Passed Away After Operation at Mt. Carmel.

Mrs. Ella Allen Gillilan, wife of Rev. Frank Gillilan, of Malta, died Wednesday forenoon about 11 o'clock at Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, following an operation for obstruction of the bowels.

Mrs. Gillilan was the sister of Dr. H. C. Allen, of this city, and the family lived at Williamsport and Ashville where Rev. Gillilan was pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of each village.

She is survived by her husband and three sons and two daughters. They are Fred Gillilan, of Alberta, Canada; Charles Gillilan, of Orange, New Jersey; Willard Gillilan, of New York City; Miss Hattie Gillilan, a teacher in the Delaware, Ohio, public schools and Miss Ethel Gillilan, at home.

Of her immediate family she leaves two brothers; Dr. H. C. Allen, of this city and Dr. Charles O. Allen, of Logan.

Mrs. Gillilan was a splendid type of Christian womanhood and exerted a great influence for good in every community in which she lived. All who had the privilege of knowing her, feel a personal loss in her death. She was a woman of more than ordinary attainments, and this combined with her cheerful disposition and fine sense of righteousness gave her an influence for good whose results cannot be measured.

She was a wonderful mother, and leaves to her children a precious memory, better than gold.

The funeral services were held at Malta this afternoon. Burial will be in the cemetery at Logan tomorrow afternoon.

RELIEF CORPS OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Woman's Relief corps Tuesday the following officers were elected; President, Mrs. Harriet Stevenson; senior vice president and chaplain, Mrs. Jennie McCrady; junior vice president, Mrs. Nellie Boyle; secretary, Mrs. Belle Myers; treasurer, Mrs. Hattie Wilson; conductress, Mrs. Mary Kinder; assistant conductress, Mrs. Rachel Van Meter.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

Tuesday, December 18, 1923
AT
1 P. M. at Court House
Circleville, Ohio.

The undersigned, as executor of the estate of Jesse Y. Wilson, deceased, will offer two farms belonging to the estate of said decedent pursuant to the will and to close said estate.

First Tract.

The first tract contains 196 acres and 103 poles, more or less, and is situated two and one-half miles north of Darbyville on the Darbyville and Commercial Point (Genoa road). The soil is excellent and under good state of cultivation, is well tiled and fences good. There is a six room, frame residence, a large barn capable of accommodating 100 head of cattle, 18 head of horses, 18 cows, and a large silo in the center of the barn with a capacity of 400 tons of ensilage.

There is also provision for housing 15 brood sows and mow room for 200 tons of hay and there are three hay carrier tracks in the mow. There is also a smokehouse, coal house, wood house, cow barn, corn cribs, wagon shed and implement shed; also three wind pumps and a tenant house. The land is situated in Muhlenberg and Scioto townships, Pickaway county, Ohio, and is one of the best improved farms in the county.

Second Tract

The second tract contains 58 acres and is situated in Scioto township, Pickaway county, Ohio, 3 1/2 miles north of Darbyville, on the Darbyville and Commercial Point pike. This land is well tiled and well fenced but without buildings; the soil is excellent.

The above lands will be offered separately and then as a whole and sold so as to realize the most money.

Possession given March 1, 1924. Purchaser to take the landlord's share of the wheat crop and to pay taxes due June 20, 1924 and all thereafter.

TERMS:—One-third in cash, one-third in one and one-third in two years from day of sale, deferred payments to be secured by first mortgage on premises sold and to bear interest from day of sale.

BENEVOLENT
ASSOCIATION

Proceeds of Christmas Seals Will be Used to Stamp Out Tuberculosis.

Health Nurse is Doing a Wonderful Work in Circleville and All Should be Glad to Help—Put Your Dollar in Envelope and Send to Association.

The Circleville Benevolent association met Tuesday afternoon, December 3, in the city cottage for the usual monthly meeting with ten ladies present.

Miss Phelps, our health nurse gives a full report at each meeting of the work done thru the month. She reported having made 275 calls during November. Can you realize how much those visits mean to the health of our community? On the average, perhaps, that is as many calls as any doctor makes thru the month.

She not only gives advice and nurses the sick, but bathes the patient when necessary, dresses wounds and answers every demand. She was present at the birth of six babies last month and for nine days afterward cared for these children and mothers.

Can one estimate the good that comes to these homes thru teaching these mothers how to properly care for their children? She also at her office took care of 40 calls of many different demands.

Besides all this work, Miss Phelps, with help from other members of the association, has weighed and examined nearly 1000 children in the schools all grades up to the fourth. She found nearly 200 who are more than five pounds under weight. Last year the association gave milk to 44 under weight children and had such splendid results from this method of health work, both in the children's mental and physical improvement that the association is hoping to find a way to provide milk for all under weight children this year.

Do the citizens of Circleville appreciate what this handful of men and women who are helping Miss Phelps look after the health of the community are accomplishing?

The association, thru the sale of Christmas seals, finances this splendid organization and is making an appeal to the general public thru this dollar sale which will be on the last of the week.

Eighty cents out of every dollar you give stays in Circleville, ten cents goes to the State and ten cents to the National Tuberculosis association to help stamp out tuberculosis. When you receive the envelope, take out the stamps and put your dollar in the enclosed envelope and return to the Circleville Benevolent association.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Lovie L. Laughlin, daughter of Mrs. Addie Laughlin, of this city, to Thomas L. Wright, of Omaha, Nebraska, which was consummated last Monday morning at the Central Methodist church in Springfield will be pleasing news to the bride's many friends in this city. Rev. Mr. Hoffman performed the ceremony at the parsonage. The groom is a son of Andrew J. Wright, of Eckley, Colorado. The young couple arrived here Wednesday for a visit to her mother. They will return to Springfield to make that place their home and will reside at 325 Greenmount street. Mrs. Wright was for a number of years a clerk in the Hamilton & Ryan drug store.

Mrs. Nelson J. Ruggles, of 721 East Broad street, Columbus, gave a musical tea at the Athletic club Tuesday afternoon, complimenting Mrs. S. Turney Ruggles, of this city, and Miss Marie Donavin, of Columbus. Among the list of assisting hostesses were nieces of the hostesses, Mrs. Joseph Noecker and Miss Miriam Ruggles, of this city.

FUNERAL OF ISAAC RIEGEL.

The funeral of the late Isaac Riegel was held Wednesday afternoon at Cedar Hill. Those who attended the funeral from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Trout, William Heffner, Frank Heffner, Mr. and Mrs. U. L. Riegel and daughter, Myrtle, and son, Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lape, Enoch Riegel, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Deffenbaugh, Charles Griffith, Mrs. Felix Swope of Lancaster; Marion Alstadt of Laureville; Boyd Swope of Canal Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Trout and Clyde Barr, of Amanda.

AMUSEMENTS

Herbert Brenon's latest Paramount production, "The Woman With Four Faces" with Betty Compson and Richard Dix in the featured roles, proved itself a decidedly entertaining picture at its premier at the Met theater last night.

This production differs from the ordinary melodrama in that it is treated in the highest possible degree of polish. The love interest, following thrill after thrill, moves swiftly and surprisingly to a fine climax and has a happy ending. Miss Compson, as Elizabeth West, an attractive girl the clever crook has one of the finest roles of her career. Caught after the commission of one of her escapades, Elizabeth (Miss Compson) is brought to trial, but acquitted.

The district attorney, Richard Temple, played by Richard Dix, enlists the aid of Elizabeth in carrying out a plan by which several prominent men who are carrying on a traffic in drugs may be brought to justice. It is thru Elizabeth that the expose is accomplished. This is her "last job," and as the picture closes we find her promising the district attorney to be his partner for life.

Supporting the principal players is an exceptionally strong cast, including George Fawcett, Theodore Von Eltz, Joseph Kilgour, James Farley and Guy Oliver.

Some of the famous Russian crown jewels were loaned to Jackie Coogan for scenes in his first Metro picture, "Long Live the King." Most of these gems are in the custody of the Bolshevik government in Moscow, but a few prices of the collection escaped the general confiscation, and it is some of these that form the Howard collection, and are worn by the young star and various members of his supporting cast.

JACKIE COOGAN

As Prince Ferdinand William Otto, Jackie wears the famous Czarevitch ring, symbol of the station of Crown Prince of the Romanoff family—a diamond marquise stone set in platinum, a full seventeen carats in weight and worth conservatively forty-five thousand dollars in gold. The various ladies of the court—principally Ruth Renick as Princess Hedwig and Rosemary Theby as Countess Olga Loschek wear other pieces of jewelry aggregating in value approximately $150,000. The authenticity of these jewels was attested by consular letters from the late Emperor Nicholas' representatives in London and Paris.

"Long Live the King" is a screen version by C. Gardner Sullivan of Mary Robert Rinehart's novel. It was produced under the supervision of Jack Coogan Sr., and directed by Victor Schertzinger. The cast includes Alan Hale, Robert Brower, Loretta McDerrett, Ruth Renick and Rosemary Theby. At the Met theater Monday, December 10.

COOLIDGE VIEWS TOLD IN ADDRESS TO CONGRESS

President in His Message to Lawmakers, Defends Policies.

TO FOLLOW HARDING'S IDEAS

Is Opposed to League of Nations, but Favors World Court—Wants Disabled Veterans Cared For, but Is Opposed to Granting a Bonus.

Washington.—President Coolidge in his first message to the congress had the following recommendations to offer:

Since the close of the last congress the nation has lost President Harding. The world knew his kindness and his humanity, his greatness and his character. He has left his mark upon history. He has made justice more certain and peace more secure. The surpassing tribute paid to his memory as he was borne across the continent to rest at last at home revealed the place he held in the hearts of the American people. But this is not the occasion for extended reference to the man or his work. In this presence, among those who knew and loved him, that is unnecessary. But we who were associated with him could not resume together the functions of our office without pausing for a moment, and in his memory consecrating ourselves to the service of our country. He is gone. We remain. It is our duty, under the inspiration of his example, to take up the burdens which he was permitted to lay down, and to develop and support the wise principles of government which he represented.

Foreign Affairs.
For us peace reigns everywhere. We desire to perpetuate it always by granting full justice to others and requiring of others full justice to ourselves.

Our country has one cardinal principle to maintain in its foreign policy. It is an American principle. It must be an American policy. We attend to our own affairs, conserve our own strength, and protect the interests of our own citizens; but we recognize thoroughly our obligation to help others, reserving to the decision of our own judgment the time, the place, and the method. We realize the common bond of humanity. We know the inescapable law of service.

Our country has definitely refused to adopt and ratify the covenant of the League of Nations. We have not felt warranted in assuming the responsibilities which its members have assumed. I am not proposing any change in this policy; neither is the senate. The incident, so far as we are concerned, is closed. The league exists as a foreign agency. We hope it will be helpful. But the United States sees no reason to limit its own freedom and independence of action by joining it. We shall do well to recognize this basic fact in all national affairs and govern ourselves accordingly.

World Court.
Our foreign policy has always been guided by two principles. The one is the avoidance of permanent political alliance which would sacrifice our proper independence. The other is the peaceful settlement of controversies between nations. By example and by treaty we have advocated arbitration. For nearly 25 years we have been a member of The Hague tribunal, and have long sought the creation of a permanent World Court of Justice. I am in full accord with both of these policies. I favor the establishment of such a court intended to include the whole world. That is, and has long been, an American policy.

Pending before the senate is a proposal that this government give its support to the Permanent Court of International Justice, which is a new and somewhat different plan. This is not a partisan question. It should not assume an artificial importance. The court is merely a convenient instrument of adjustment to which we could go, but to which we could not be brought. It should be discussed with entire candor, not by a political but by a judicial method, without pressure and without prejudice. Partisanship has no place in our foreign relations. As I wish to see a court established, and as the proposal presents the only practical plan on which many nations have ever agreed, though it may not meet every desire, I therefore commend it to the favorable consideration of the senate, with the proposed reservations clearly indicating our refusal to adhere to the League of Nations.

Russia.
Our diplomatic relations, lately so largely interrupted, are now being resumed, but Russia presents notable difficulties. We have every desire to see that great people, who are our traditional friends, restored to their position among the nations of the earth. We have relieved their pitiable destitution with an enormous charity. Our government offers no objection to the carrying on of commerce by our citizens with the people of Russia. Our government does not propose, however, to enter into relations with another regime which refuses to recognize the sanctity of international obligations. I do not propose to barter away for the privilege of trade any of the cherished rights of humanity. I do not propose to make merchandise of any American principles. These rights and principles must go wherever the sanctions of our government go.

But while the favor of America is not for sale, I am willing to make very large concessions for the purpose of rescuing the people of Russia. Already encouraging evidences of returning to the ancient ways of society can be detected. But more are needed. Whenever there appears any disposition to compensate our citizens who were despoiled, and to recognize that debt contracted with our government, not by the czar, but by the newly formed republic of Russia; whenever the active spirit of enmity to our institutions is abated; whenever there appear works mete for repentance; our country ought to be the first to go to the economic and moral rescue of Russia. We have every desire to help and no desire to injure. We hope the time is near at hand when we can act.

Debts.
The current debt and interest due from foreign governments, exclusive of the British debt of $4,600,000,000, is about $7,200,000,000. I do not favor the cancellation of this debt, but I see no objection to adjusting it in accordance with the principle adopted for the British debt. Our country would not wish to assume the role of an oppressive debtor, but would maintain the principle that financial obligations between nations are likewise moral obligations which international faith and honor require should be discharged.

Our government has a liquidated claim against Germany for the expense of the army of occupation of over $225,000,000. Besides this, the mixed claims commission have before them about 12,500 claims of American citizens, aggregating about $1,225,000,000. These claims have already been reduced by a recent decision, but there are valid claims reaching well toward $500,000,000. Our thousands of citizens with credits due them of hundreds of millions of dollars have no redress save in the action of our government. These are very substantial interests, which it is the duty of our government to protect as best it can. That course I propose to pursue.

It is for these reasons that we have a direct interest in the economic recovery of Europe. They are enlarged by our desire for the stability of civilization and the welfare of humanity. That we are making sacrifices to that end none can deny. Our deferred interest alone amounts to a million dollars every day. But recently we offered to aid with our advice and counsel. We have reiterated our desire to see France paid and Germany revived. We have proposed disarmament. We have earnestly sought to compose differences and restore peace. We shall persevere in well-doing, not by force, but by reason.

Foreign Service.
The foreign service of our government needs to be reorganized and improved.

Fiscal Condition.
Our main problems are domestic problems. Financial stability is the first requisite of sound government. We cannot escape the effect of world conditions. We cannot avoid the inevitable results of the economic disorders which have reached all nations. But we shall diminish their harm to us in proportion as we continue to restore our government finances to a secure and enduring position. This we can do and must do. Upon that firm foundation rests the only hope of progress and prosperity. From that source must come relief for the people.

This is being accomplished by a drastic but orderly retrenchment, which is bringing our expenses within our means. The origin of this has been the determination of the American people, the main support has been the courage of those in authority, and the effective method has been the budget system. The result has involved real sacrifice by department heads, but it has been made without flinching. This system is a law of the congress. It represents your will. It must be maintained, and ought to be strengthened by the example of your observance. Without a budget system there can be no fixed responsibility and no constructive scientific economy.

Another reform which is urgent in our fiscal system is the abolition of the right to issue tax-exempt securities. The existing system not only permits a large amount of the wealth of the nation to escape its just burden but acts as a continual stimulant to municipal extravagance. This should be prohibited by constitutional amendment. All the wealth of the nation ought to contribute its fair share to the expenses of the nation.

Tariff Law.
The present tariff law has accomplished its two main objects. It has secured an abundant revenue and been productive of an abounding prosperity. Under it the country has had a very large export and import trade. A constant revision of the tariff by the congress is disturbing and harmful. The present law contains an elastic provision authorizing the President to increase or decrease present schedules not in excess of 50 per centum to meet the difference in cost of production at home and abroad. This does not, to my mind, warrant a rewriting of the whole law, but does mean, and will be so administered, that whenever the required investigation shows that inequalities of sufficient importance exist in any schedule, the power to change them should and will be applied.

Shipping.
The entire well being of our country is dependent upon transportation by sea and land. Our government during the war acquired a large merchant fleet which should be transferred, as soon as possible, to private ownership and operation under conditions which would secure two results: First, and of prime importance, adequate means for national defense; second, adequate service to American commerce. Until shipping conditions are such that our fleet can be disposed of advantageously under these conditions, it will be operated as economically as possible under such plans as may be advised from time to time by the shipping board. We must have a merchant marine which meets these requirements, and we shall have to pay the cost of its service.

Public Improvements.
The time has come to resume in a moderate way the opening of our intracoastal waterways; the control of flood waters of the Mississippi and of the Colorado rivers; the improvement of the waterways from the Great Lakes toward the Gulf of Mexico; and the development of the great power and navigation project of the St. Lawrence river, for which efforts are now being made to secure the necessary treaty with Canada. These projects cannot all be undertaken at once, but all should have the immediate consideration of the congress and be adopted as fast as plans can be matured and the necessary funds become available. This is not incompatible with economy, for their nature does not require so much a public expenditure as a capital investment which will be reproductive, as evidenced by the marked increase in revenue from the Panama canal. Upon these projects depend much future industrial and agricultural progress. They represent the protection of large areas from flood and the addition of a great amount of cheap power and cheap freight by use of navigation, chief of which is the bringing of ocean-going ships to the Great Lakes.

Another problem of allied character is the superpower development of the northeastern states, consideration of which is proceeding under the direction of the Department of Commerce by joint conference with the local authorities.

Railroads.
Criticism of the railroad law has been directed, first, to the section laying down the rule by which rates are fixed, and providing for payment to the government and use of excess earnings; second, to the method for the adjustment of wage scales; and third, to the authority permitting consolidations.

It has been erroneously assumed that the act undertakes to guarantee railroad earnings. The law requires that rates should be just and reasonable. That has always been the rule under which rates have been fixed. To make a rate that does not yield a fair return results in confiscation, and confiscatory rates are of course unconstitutional. Unless the government adheres to the rule of making a rate that will yield a fair return, it must abandon rate making altogether. The new and important feature of that part of the law is the recapture and redistribution of excess rates. The constitutionality of this method is now before the Supreme court for adjudication. Their decision should be awaited before attempting further legislation on this subject. Furthermore, the importance of this feature will not be great if consolidation goes into effect.

The settlement of railroad labor disputes is a matter of grave public concern. The labor board was established to protect the public in the employment of continuous service by attempting to insure justice between the companies and their employees. It has been a great help, but is not altogether satisfactory to the public, the employees, or the companies. If a substantial agreement can be reached among the groups interested, there should be no hesitation in enacting such agreement into law. If it is not reached, the labor board may very well be left for the present to protect the public welfare.

The law for consolidations is not sufficiently effective to be expeditious. Additional legislation is needed giving authority for voluntary consolidations, both regional and route, and providing government machinery to aid and stimulate such action, always subject to the approval of the interstate commerce commission. This should authorize the commission to appoint committees for each proposed group, representing the public and the component roads, with power to negotiate with individual security holders for an exchange of their securities for those of the consolidation on such terms and conditions as the commission may prescribe for avoiding any confiscation and preserving fair values. Should this permissive consolidation prove ineffective after a limited period, the authority of the government will have to be directly invoked.

Consolidation appears to be the only feasible method for the maintenance of an adequate system of transportation with an opportunity so to adjust freight rates as to meet such temporary conditions as now prevail in some agricultural sections. Competent authorities agree that an entire reorganization of the rate structure for freight is necessary. This should be ordered at once by the congress.

Eight circuit. Legislation should be considered for this purpose.

Prohibition.

The prohibition amendment to the Constitution requires the congress and the President to provide adequate laws to prevent its violation. It is my duty to enforce such laws. For that purpose a treaty is being negotiated with Great Britain with respect to the right of search of hovering vessels. To prevent smuggling, the coast guard should be greatly strengthened, and a supply of swift power boats should be provided. The major sources of production should be rigidly regulated, and every effort should be made to suppress interstate traffic. With this action on the part of the national government, and the co-operation which is usually rendered by municipal and state authorities, prohibition should be made effective. Free government has no greater menace than disrespect for authority and continual violation of law. It is the duty of a citizen not only to observe the law but to let it be known that he is opposed to its violation.

The Negro.

Numbered among our population are some 12,000,000 colored people. Under our Constitution their rights are just as sacred as those of any other citizen. It is both a public and a private duty to protect those rights. The congress ought to exercise all its powers of prevention and punishment against the hideous crime of lynching, of which the negroes are by no means the sole sufferers, but for which they furnish a majority of the victims.

Regulatory Legislation.

Co-operation with other maritime powers is necessary for complete protection of our coast waters from pollution. Plans for this are under way, but await certain experiments for refuse disposal. Maritime laws prohibiting spreading oil and oil refuse from vessels in our own territorial waters would be most helpful against this menace and should be speedily enacted.

Laws should be passed regulating aviation.

Revision is needed of the laws regulating radio interference.

Legislation and regulations establishing load lines to provide safe loading of vessels leaving our ports are necessary and recodification of our navigation laws is vital.

Revision of procedure of the federal trade commission will give more constructive purpose to this department.

If our Alaskan fisheries are to be saved from destruction, there must be further legislation declaring a general policy and delegating the authority to make rules and regulations to an administrative body.

Army and Navy.

For several years we have been decreasing the personnel of the army and navy, and reducing their power to the danger point. Further reductions should not be made. The army is a guarantee of the security of our citizens at home; the navy is a guarantee of the security of our citizens abroad. Both of these services should be strengthened rather than weakened. Additional planes are needed for the army, and additional submarines for the navy. The defenses of Panama must be perfected. We want no more competitive armaments. We want no more war. But we want no weakness that invites imposition. A people who neglect their national defense are putting in jeopardy their national honor.

Insular Possessions.

Conditions in the insular possessions on the whole have been good. Their business has been reviving. They are being administered according to law. That effort has the full support of the administration. Such recommendations as may come from their people or their governments should have the most considerate attention.

Education and Welfare.

Our national government is not doing as much as it legitimately can do to promote the welfare of the people. Our enormous material wealth, our institutions, our whole form of society, cannot be considered fully successful until their benefits reach the merit of every individual. This is not a suggestion that the government should, or could, assume for the people the inevitable burdens of existence. There is no method by which we can either be relieved of the results of our own folly or be guaranteed a successful life. There is an inescapable personal responsibility for the development of character, of industry, of thrift, and of self control. These do not come from the government, but from the people themselves. But the government can and should always be expressive of steadfast determination, always vigilant, to maintain conditions under which these virtues are most likely to develop and secure recognition and reward. This is the American policy.

It is in accordance with this principle that we have enacted laws for the protection of the public health and have adopted prohibition in narcotic drugs and intoxicating liquors. For purposes of national uniformity we ought to provide, by constitutional amendment and appropriate legislation, for a limitation of child labor, and in all cases under the exclusive jurisdiction of the federal government a minimum wage law for women, which would undoubtedly find sufficient power of enforcement in the influence of public opinion.

Immigration.

American institutions rest solely on good citizenship. They were created by people who had a background of self-government. New arrivals should

At the first ditch the Englishman sat down and began to remove his shoes.

All features are patented and no stove manufacturer, dealer or user can copy or use same until the expiration of the patent without incurring liability for an action for damages.

THE HOT BLAST AIR-TIGHT FLORENCE burns soft coal or slack and all the smoke and gases. No filling up of the stove, pipe or flue with soot. No dirt inside or outside the house. It will burn hard coal and all the gases which escape from the hard coal base burner. It will burn wood and sawdust, wet or dry. It will produce one-half less ashes than any other stove on earth with any kind of fuel and leave no clinkers or half consumed fuel.

be limited to our capacity to absorb them into the ranks of good citizenship. America must be kept American. For this purpose, it is necessary to continue a policy of restricted immigration. It would be well to make such immigration of a selective nature with some inspection at the source, and based either on a prior census or upon the record of naturalization. Either method would insure the admission of those with the largest capacity and best intention of becoming citizens. I am convinced that our present economic and social conditions warrant a limitation of those to be admitted. We should find additional safety in a law requiring the immediate registration of all aliens. Those who do not want to be partakers of the American spirit ought not to settle in America.

Veterans.

No more important duty falls on the government of the United States than the adequate care of its veterans. Those suffering disabilities incurred in the service must have sufficient hospital relief and compensation. Their dependents must be supported. Rehabilitation and vocational training must be completed. All of this service must be clean, must be prompt and effective, and it must be administered in a spirit of the broadest and deepest human sympathy. If investigation reveals any present defects of administration or need of legislation, orders will be given for the immediate correction of administration, and recommendations for legislation should be given the highest preference.

At present there are 9,500 vacant beds in government hospitals. I recommend that all hospitals be authorized at once to receive and care for, without hospital pay, the veterans of all wars needing such care, whenever there are vacant beds, and that immediate steps be taken to enlarge and build new hospitals to serve all such cases.

The American Legion will present to congress a legislative program too extensive for detailed discussion here. It is a carefully matured plan. While some of it I do not favor, with much of it I am in hearty accord, and I recommend that a most painstaking effort be made to provide remedies for any defects in the administration of the present laws which their experience has revealed. The attitude of the government toward these proposals should be one of generosity. But I do not favor the granting of a bonus.

Coal.

The cost of coal has become unbearably high. It places a great burden on our industrial and domestic life. The public welfare requires a reduction in the price of fuel. With the enormous deposits in existence, failure of supply ought not to be tolerated. Those responsible for the conditions in this industry should undertake its reform and free it from any charge of profiteering.

The report of the coal commission will be before the congress. It comprises all the facts. It represents the mature deliberations and conclusions of the best talent and experience that ever made a national survey of the production and distribution of fuel. I do not favor government ownership or operation of coal mines. The need is for action under private ownership that will secure greater continuity of production and greater public protection. The federal government probably has no peace-time authority to regulate wages, prices, or profits in coal at the mines or among dealers, but by ascertaining and publishing facts it can exercise great influence.

Reorganization.

A special joint committee has been appointed to work out a plan for a reorganization of the different departments and bureaus of the government more scientific and economical than the present system. With the exception of the consolidation of the War and Navy departments and some minor details, the plan has the general sanction of the President and the cabinet. It is important that reorganization be enacted into law at the present session.

Agriculture.

Aided by the sound principles adopted by the government, the business of the country has had an extraordinary revival. Looked at as a whole, the nation is in the enjoyment of remarkable prosperity. Industry and commerce are thriving. For the most part agriculture is successful, eleven staples having risen in value from about $5,300,000,000 two years ago to about $7,000,000,000 for the current year. But range cattle are still low in price, and some sections of the wheat area, notably Minnesota, North Dakota and on west, have many cases of actual distress. With his products not selling on a parity with the products of industry, every sound remedy that can be devised should be applied for the relief of the farmer. He represents a character, a type of citizenship, and a public necessity that must be preserved and afforded every facility for regaining prosperity.

The distress is most acute among those wholly dependent upon one crop. Wheat acreage was greatly expanded and has not yet been sufficiently reduced. A large amount is raised for export, which has to meet the competition in the world market of large amounts raised on land much cheaper and much more productive.

No complicated scheme of relief, no plan for government fixing of prices, no resort to the public treasury will be of any permanent value in establishing agriculture. Simple and direct methods put into operation by the farmer himself are the only real sources for restoration.

Indirectly the farmer must be relieved by a reduction of national and local taxation. He must be assisted by the reorganization of the freight-rate structure which could reduce charges on his production. To make this fully effective there ought to be railroad consolidations. Cheaper fertilizers must be provided.

He must have organization. His customer with whom he exchanges products of the farm for those of industry is organized, labor is organized, business is organized, and there is no way for agriculture to meet this unless it, too, is organized. The acreage of wheat is too large. Unless we can meet the world market at a profit, we must stop raising for export. Organization would help to reduce acreage. Systems of co-operative marketing created by the farmers themselves, supervised by competent management, without doubt would be of assistance, but they cannot wholly solve the problem. Our agricultural schools ought to have thorough courses in the theory of organization and co-operative marketing.

Diversification is necessary. Those farmers who raise their living on their land are not greatly in distress. Such loans as are wisely needed to assist buying stock and other materials to start in this direction should be financed through a government agency as a temporary and emergency expedient.

The remaining difficulty is the disposition of exportable wheat. I do not favor the permanent interference of the government in this problem. That probably would increase the trouble by increasing production. But it seems feasible to provide government assistance to exports, and authority should be given the War Finance corporation to grant, in its discretion, the most liberal terms of payment for fats and grains exported for the direct benefit of the farm.

Muscle Shoals.

The government is undertaking to develop a great water-power project known as Muscle Shoals, on which it has expended many million dollars. The work is still going on. Subject to the right to retake in time of war, I recommend that this property with a location for auxiliary steam plant and rights of way be sold. This would end the present burden of expense and should return to the treasury the largest price possible to secure.

Reclamation.

By reason of many contributing causes, occupants of our reclamation projects are in financial difficulties, which in some cases are acute. Relief should be granted by definite authority of law empowering the secretary of the interior in his discretion to suspend, readjust, and reassess all charges against water users. This whole question is being considered by experts. You will have the advantage of the facts and conclusions which they may develop. This situation, involving a government investment of more than $135,000,000, and affecting more than 30,000 water users, is serious. While relief which is necessary should be granted, yet contracts with the government which can be met should be met. The established general policy of these projects should not be abandoned for any private control.

Highways and Forests.

Highways and reforestation should continue to have the interest and support of the government. Everyone is anxious for good highways. I have made a liberal proposal in the budget for the continuing payment to the states by the federal government of its share for this necessary public improvement. No expenditure of public money contributes so much to the national wealth as for building good roads.

Reforestation has an importance far above the attention it usually secures. A special committee of the senate is investigating this need, and I shall welcome a constructive policy based on their report.

It is 100 years since our country announced the Monroe doctrine. This principle has been ever since, and is now, one of the main foundations of our foreign relations. It must be maintained. But in maintaining it we must not be forgetful that a great change has taken place. We are no longer a weak nation, thinking mainly of defense, dreading foreign imposition. We are great and powerful. New powers bring new responsibilities. Our duty then was to protect ourselves. Added to that, our duty now is to help give stability to the world. We want idealism. We want that vision which lifts men and nations above themselves. These are virtues by reason of their own merit. But they must not be cloistered; they must not be impractical; they must not be ineffective.

The world has had enough of the curse of hatred and selfishness, of destruction and war. It has had enough of the wrongful use of material power. For the healing of the nations there must be good will and charity, confidence and peace. The time has come for a more practical use of moral power, and more reliance upon the principle that right makes its own might. Our authority among the nations must be represented by justice and mercy. It is necessary not only to have faith, but to make sacrifices for our faith. The spiritual forces of the world make all its final determinations. It is with these voices that America should speak. Whenever they declare a righteous purpose there need be no doubt that they will be heard. America has taken her place in the world as a republic—free, independent, powerful. The best service that can be rendered to humanity is the assurance that the place will be maintained.

EGG RECORDS IN PICKAWAY

Mrs. Will Hay is First With 135.68 Per Hen for White Wyandottes.

Mrs. Clara Wright is Second; Miss Mary McKenzie Third; E. C. Shupe, Fourth, and E. E. Fetherolf is Fifth. Records Give Valuable Data of Cost.

Eleven flock owners who have been keeping records of production and costs in cooperation with the Farm Bureau have just completed a year's work. Ten of the eleven flocks have records averaging more than one hundred and ten eggs per hen which is fifty per cent above the average production of the ordinary flock in Pickaway county.

First place goes to Mrs. Will Hay, of Walnut township with an average of 135.68 eggs per hen for her flock of White Leghorns, showing a profit above feed costs of $280. Mrs. Clara Wright, of Harrison township, is second with her flock of Buff Orpingtons with an average of 132.4 eggs per hen. Mary McKenzie, of Pickaway township is third with an average of 128.79 eggs per hen for her flock of White Leghorns. Fourth place goes to E. C. Shupe of Saltcreek township with an average of 124.28 eggs per hen. E. H. Fetherolf of Saltcreek township, is fifth with an average of 122.84 eggs per hen with his flock of Rhode Island Reds. The other flocks completing the year's work belong to Mrs. R. D. Head, Pickaway township; Mrs. E. H. Wardell, Wayne township; Mrs. J. C. Hines, Walnut township; Mrs. J. D. Carter, Deercreek township; Hay and Brinker, Walnut township; Lawrence Goodman, Circleville township. Most of these flock owners and several additional ones have signed coming year. The records furnished coming year. The records furnished by these cooperators give some valuable data of the costs of producing eggs and show the practices that result in the greatest profit from a farm flock.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

The court of appeals, Judges Cushing, Hamilton and Bookwiler of the First district, heard arguments of counsel in the Hitler will case Tuesday morning. The style of the case is Denny E. Phillips and George H. Roof, as executors of Ellen Phillips, against the Board of Education of Pickaway township rural school district, of Pickaway county. The case was taken up by plaintiffs on error from the common pleas court. Barton Walters, Charles Gerhardt and I. F. Snyder represents the plaintiffs and Abernethy & Seyfert, C. A. Leist, Charles H. May and Charles Pretzman, the defendants.

The liquor cases of John G. Heffner and Oscar Evens which were docketed were not submitted as the attorneys were not ready. They were told to mail briefs inside of ten days.
